Other Members of Band Open Fire After Explosion

Saigon, Viet Nam — (AP) — A communist terrorist slipped into an American military billet 20 miles north of Saigon last night during a movie and exploded a bomb, killing two U.S. military advisers, himself and three South Vietnamese.

Another American officer was wounded, and two others escaped injury.

The wounded American was flown to Clark field at Manila for treatment. A communique from the South Viet Nam government and the U.S. embassy sy said his condition was not serious.

After the bomb attack, other members of the terrorist band opened fire from outside the billet with small arms and automatic weapons, the communique said.

Guards Return Fire

Vietnamese army guards returned the fire, "forcing the terrorists to flee to the nearby river from which direction they had come," the communique reported.

The South Vietnamese killed were two army guards and an attendant who tried to prevent the terrorist from exploding his bomb. Another terrorist who had slipped into the building with the bomber escaped before the charge went off.

In Washington, the army identified the American casualties as:

Killed—Maj. Dale R. Buis, who listed the address of his wife, Mrs. Virginia Lee Buis, as Imperial Beach, Calif.; and Master Sgt. Chester M. Ovand, whose wife, Mrs. Turn to Page 10, Col. 3

Bender Denies He Received Union Favors

Ex-Senator Insists He Wasn't Influenced While in House

Washington — (AP) — Former Sen. George H. Bender today denounced as "a damnable lie" implications he got a bribe or favors as chairman of a house committee that dropped charges against Ohio Teamster officials in 1954.

He made his vehement denial after Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) of the senate racketeering committee said a witness implied yesterday that the charges were dropped after payment of money "to pull strings."

"It's a damnable lie and I resent it," Bender shouted.

"The witness said it, not I," McClellan countered.

"Well," Bender replied, "it was drawn out by our Counsel (Robert F.) Kennedy. No charges were dropped. A report was made to congress on the hearings. No strings were pulled with me."

Bender accused Kennedy of headline-hunting at his expense in raising the implication.

Interest Rate Rises Sharply

U. S. to Pay 4.728 Per Cent on Loan Of $2 Billion

Washington — (AP) — A near-record interest rate on government borrowing pointed up today the Eisenhower administration's contention it must be permitted to offer more for long term bonds.

The treasury announced last night it will pay nearly 4 3/4 per cent — the highest rate in 38 years — to borrow $2 billion for a year. The rate was determined by bids.

The announcement came a few hours after the house ways and means committee approved a compromise plan permitting President Eisenhower to set aside the 4 1/2 per cent interest limit which the law puts on bonds issued for five years or longer. The authority was limited to two years.

Public Works Projects Halted By Illinois Chief

Springfield, Ill. — (AP) — Faced with a shortage of revenue to meet proposed construction needs, the state will postpone all new public works projects at least until next Jan. 1, Gov. William G. Stratton announced yesterday.

"We're not going to wake up and find ourselves not able to meet payrolls," he declared.

The effect of the action is to freeze about $80 million worth of new projects approved by the legislature for the 1959-61 budget period.

It will tie up construction at the University of Illinois, Southern Illinois university and the four teachers universities — Western, Eastern, Northern and Normal.

It will postpone plans to build a new state museum building, a new prison and a mental institution to be located in southern Illinois, plus a host of minor projects.

Stratton told a news conference that the freeze order might union was shifting its support from Thomas Burke, the after a few months, if the Democratic senatorial non-financial picture changes — in, to Bender. Bender de- "if revenue picks up and teated Burke for the senate seat of the late Robert A. Taft boom."

Report Pair of Tornadoes; Waupaca County Hit Hard By Howling Wind and Rain

Snarling wind, possibly in measured in excess of five tornado proportions, snapped a swath of destruction across Waupaca county Wednesday evening as a midsummer storm raked Wisconsin, spawning at least two tornadoes.

The savage squall left two dead at Milwaukee and three injured at Niagara.

There were no reported injuries in the Fox Cities region but damage was heavy in the Little River area of Waupaca county.

Winds whipping across Lake Michigan blew a rubber raft with three young men aboard 10 miles into the lake. After an all night search, the raft, with two of the occupants dead of exposure, and a third clinging to a spark of life was found this morning by a U. S. marine helicopter.

Tornadoes Strike

The tornadoes struck at Harrisville in Marquette county and the Marinette county community of Niagara, where a mother and her two children were injured.

Although no funnels were reported in Waupaca county, observers there, who have seen many a severe storm before, believed Wednesday's blow to be a tornado.

Only minor damage was reported in Appleton, where winds reached a peak of 48 miles an hour. Rainfall was measured at 1.23 inches.

The fall was much heavier in the Hortonville area, where 3.2 inches were recorded. In Colfax, Wis., the fall was

Senate Passes Foreign Aid Bill

Measure Provides About 10 Per Cent Less Than Asked

Washington — (AP) — The senate has passed a foreign aid bill with a $3,543,320,000 price tag. That's about 10 per cent less than President Eisenhower asked.

The authorization measure merely sets the ceiling for foreign aid spending. The actual amount to be spent will be determined in a later appropriation bill.

Efforts to make further slashes in the amount asked by Eisenhower failed yesterday in the final day of debate. All of the $383 1/2 million in cuts had been voted Tuesday.

Oppose Cuts

Final action came after Eisenhower indicated at a news conference he might call congress back into a special session later this year if his request was sliced too deeply.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas joined Republicans in helping to fend off further reductions during the final debate.

Both Wisconsin senators voted for the bill.

The senate measure allows $1,300,000,000 for military aid to allies and $751 1/2 million in defense economic supports to help allies maintain their troops. The rest is for various forms of economic aid.

The military provision is $300 million less than the president requested. The economic aid is $834 million under what he asked.

Brewery Has First Strike in History

St. Paul — (AP) — For the first time in its 94-year history Hamm's Brewery today was shut down by a strike which idled some 1,200 workers.

Pickets were placed about the plant Wednesday night after union members had rejected a company offer of a new contract by a reported vote of 706-321.

John H. Wyant, president of the executive board of Bottlers Local 343 and Brewery Workers Local 97, said the main issue is a union demand for a shorter work week. Employees now work 37 1/2 hours with 2 1/2 hours of the time represented by rest periods.

Canadian Police Seize $8 Million in Heroin

Montreal — (AP) — The Royal Canadian Mounted police announced today the seizure of a quantity of heroin estimated to be worth $8 million and the arrest of two men on charges of conspiracy, possession of and trafficking in narcotics.

The seizure was made during the night at a motel in suburban Pointe aux Trembles.

Supt. Rene J. Belec of the mounted police criminal investigation branch here identified the arrested men as Giuseppe "Pepe" Cotroni, 45, and Rene "Bob" Robert, 31.

Police described the arrests as the result of part of an investigation underway for months. The heroin seizure arrested July 2. The FBI said it was estimated to weigh 13 pounds and was valued at $3 million.

Police said other raids continued through the night—20 plus cash and jewelry, from them in the Montreal area, the Brockville Trust and Savings Co., federal narcotics agents searched premises in New Jersey, New York and job May 3, 1958.

Largest Deficit in Modern Era Looms

Legislative Forecast $10 Million, But It May be Considerably More

Madison — The legislature's joint committee on finance officially acknowledged Wednesday that the state is heading into the largest state treasury deficit of modern times.

The acknowledgment came in the form of a resolution prepared by the committee in compliance with law as a means of keeping rank and file legislators informed about the drift of state finance.

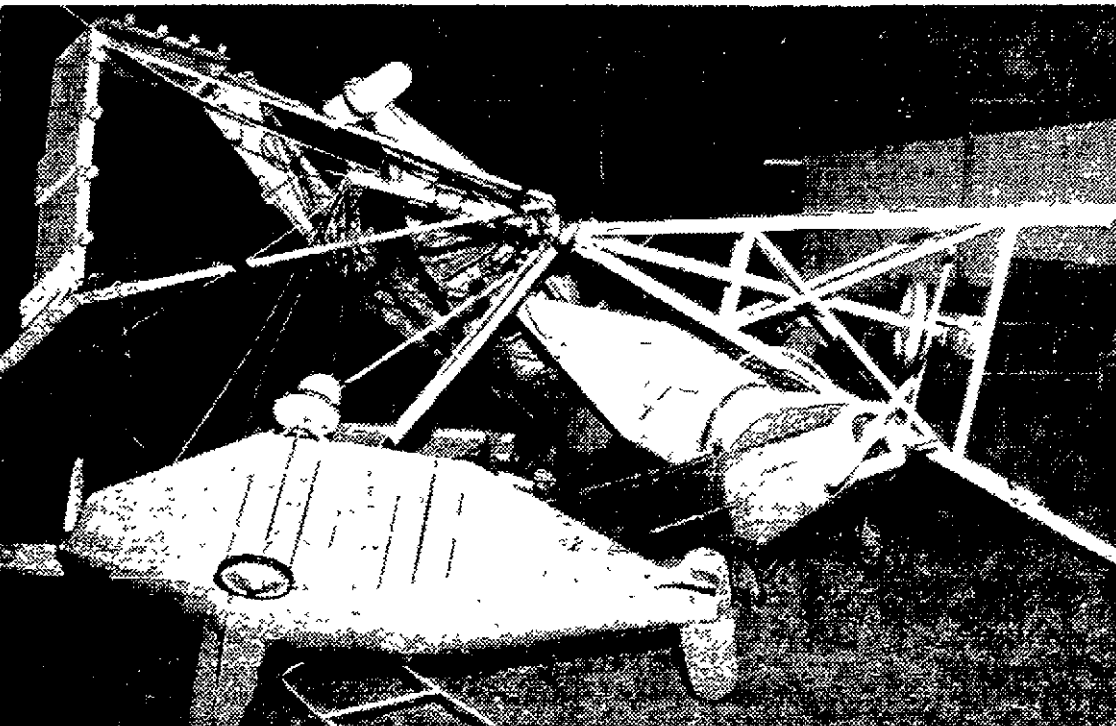

The report conceded the likelihood of a $10,000,000 deficit at the end of the present biennium, contrasted with a surplus of about $16,000,000 on July 1. The figures were computed by the state bureau of the budget.

Actually the prospective deficit is considerably higher, because some of the assumptions upon which the $10,000,000 figure was based are not politically valid.

Cite Factors

The fund shortage is likely to be greater because of these factors:

1. E. C. Giessell, the budget director, assumed enactment of Gov. Nelson's income tax withholding plan with its substantial "windfall" of receipts through tax prepayments. There is scarcely any chance that the state senate will concur in the measure approved by the assembly.
2. Giessell's expenditure figures included only measures enacted by both houses or recommended for passage by the finance committee. But the finance committee will recommend other spending bills and the legislature in several instances has already approved other spending bills.
3. Giessell's figures also assume the enactment of some

53 Die After Blast and Fire Aboard Excursion Boat

Panic Adds to Death Toll

BY BIRGER FARUP

Haderslev, Denmark — (AP) — The Danish shipping inspection board said today the pleasure boat Damende was "loaded far beyond her capacity" when she exploded and burned, killing at least 53 persons.

As frogmen searched for more bodies in the waters of a park lake where disaster struck yesterday, the government agency in its first findings said the 45-foot excursion boat carried only 37 lifebelts.

Gasoline Pipe Offers Clue

The agency said the Damende's capacity limit recently was reduced to 35 from its original limit of 75. Officials believe at least 94 passengers were aboard.

A gasoline pipe used to connect the Damende's engine with a reserve tank was found in the wreckage last night. The agency said this was a makeshift hookup and the pipe was too wide for the purpose, "indicating that some gasoline may have seeped and started the fire."

Some foreigners, including Germans and Belgians, were among the missing. As far as was known, no Americans were aboard.

The boat was returning with passengers from a picnic area along the 1 1/2-mile long lake when disaster struck within full view of many sunbathers on the shore and pleasure craft in the water.

2 Men Arrested as Operators of Ring Cashing Bogus Checks

Washington — (AP) — The secret service today announced the arrest of two men described as operators of a ring which cashed counterfeit treasury checks from Florida to Texas.

U. E. Baughman, chief of the secret service, said the two men, although armed, surrendered quietly late yesterday at National airport here. He said the arrests were made after they delivered 855 phony checks to two undercover agents.

Baughman said merchants might have been bilked of half a million dollars had all the checks printed by the gang been forged and cashed.

The men arrested were identified as Joseph Lovely Somnier, 40, of Dusen, La., and Louis Emory Roger, 31, of Lafayette, La.

They were held under $50,000 bond each on charges of possessing counterfeit checks.

Baughman said a woman, Joann Olivier, 35, was arrested early today at Somnier's home in Dusen, and was charged with possessing and selling counterfeit checks.

Sen. Green Scores Butler For Criticizing Democrats

Washington — (AP) — Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-R.I.) today called on Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler to stop making his office a "gun-pit" from which to fire on his own party members.

He told Butler it would be "both in your own interest and that of our fellow Democrats."

Green wrote Butler that the chairman's broadcast last Sunday criticizing the party's congressional leaders as not attacked not from without but by a fellow Democrat and one standing high in the party organization.

"If the excuse is given that it will help new Democratic candidates for congress at the next election to be confronted by their Republican opponents with such statements by the Democratic national chairman, I simply do not believe broadcast had created a situation which he did not believe occurred before.

Green listed the measures passed by the present congress and said, "It has been one of the hardest working and most productive sessions of any I have known during my 22 years in the senate."

"But now," Green said, "Democratic members of the senate and of the house are confronted with a dilemma. They are finding themselves attacked not from without but by a fellow Democrat and one standing high in the party organization."

Green, 81, who has been active in politics since young manhood, recalled that he had served the party for many years, and said he had seen many situations arise involving strained relations.

But, he declared, Butler's broadcast had created a situation which he did not believe occurred before.

Constitution Approved at United Church Conference

General Synod Moves Into Final Days of Talks With Rules for Future Operations

BY GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religious Writer

Oberlin, Ohio—(AP)—A young, developing Protestant denomination could flex some new muscles today.

It had a social platform, the basis of a constitution and a biling declaration of faith.

As the general synod of the United Church of Christ went into the last of five days of meetings, it had set the framework for much of its future functioning.

Coming of Age

"We are coming of age," said the Rev. Dr. Sheldon E. Mackey, of Philadelphia, the church's co-secretary.

In a late session last night, delegates voted approval of a constitution draft "as an excellent working document," though it still is subject to church-wide review before coming up next year for regular approval.

The meeting previously had decided to take no vote on the document, but on a motion by Dr. Liston Pope, dean of Yale divinity school, the conditional endorsement was given.

Happy Fervor

A wave of happy fervor swept the convention Wednesday after it agreed unanimously on a statement of faith for the denomination, which brings together two historically divergent communions.

The big assembly rose to its feet and broke into long, loud applause. In the midst of it came the sound of spontaneous singing, which swelled into a mighty hymn of thanks-giving.

"Praise God from whom all blessings flow"

The hill vibrated with the triumphant, old doxology. "Praise him all creatures here below"

Then the delegates, representing the Evangelical and Reformed church and the Congregational Christian churches, joined in reciting their new affirmation of spiritual unity.

Call to Action

The denomination also issued its first pronouncement on contemporary problems. A 1,700-word "call to Christian action in society"

It urges more Christian activity in politics, steps to bring world peace and armament reductions, strengthened family life, an open door to refugees, and an end to racial segregation.

It also describes American culture as riddled with materialism, unthinking conformity, escapist entertainment and selfishness.

The two merging bodies include 24 million members in more than 8,000 local churches.

Meet With Khrushchev, Harriman Says

Soviet Leader Should Come to See United States

New York — (AP)—Former New York Gov. W. Averell Harriman, returning today from a 6-week visit to Russia, urged that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev meet with western leaders in New York.

Harriman, a former U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union, told newsmen at Idlewild airport that Khrushchev showed a "grave ignorance of the United States." He said the communist boss believes American workers have no influence.

A summit meeting here would enable Khrushchev to see for himself, Harriman said.

Harriman said he would report to Secretary of State Christian A. Herter tomorrow.

Will Talk to Nixon

He said he also would talk with Vice President Richard M. Nixon, who is planning a trip to the Soviet Union. Harriman said he approved of Nixon making the trip.

Harriman has reported in a magazine article about his interview with Khrushchev that the Soviet premier, discussing the Berlin situation, had commented: "If you want war, you can have it."

"I said to Khrushchev, 'Your talk is not conducive to the peaceful relations you say you want,'" Harriman told reporters today.

President Eisenhower criticized the Khrushchev remark at a news conference Wednesday in Washington. He said he didn't believe that "responsible people should indulge in anything that can be even remotely considered ultimatums or threats."

Harriman, a Democrat, said he agreed with the president.

He said he had no way of knowing if the Soviet leader was bluffing. But he added that anything said by Khrushchev "should be weighed and too much emphasis should not be placed on flamboyant statements."

Harriman described Khrushchev as a man who is "determined, self-confident and boastful." He can "joke and be serious interchangeably," he said.

"Khrushchev is calling the signals," he commented

Republicans Cheer at Ike's Determination to Keep Using Veto Power

Goldwater Praises Eisenhower, But Democrats are Unhappy

Washington — (AP)—Republicans cheered and Democrats grumbled today at President Eisenhower's evident determination to keep on using the veto to hold down government spending.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee, said that if Eisenhower continues to veto such measures as the housing bill "his record will be our greatest asset in 1960."

Has Vote

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the assistant Democratic leader, said that "the president has the real vote to sustain his vetoes, while we have only the theoretical vote to override them."

It requires two-thirds of those voting in both houses to enact bills into law over the president's rejection. Despite their overwhelming senate and house majorities—they have almost two-thirds

Hopes Dimmed For Stopping Steel Strike

Workers Turn Down Eisenhower's Plea To Extend Truce

New York — (AP)—Hopes dimmed today for averting a nationwide steel strike at midnight Tuesday.

The steelworkers union turned down a plea by President Eisenhower for an indefinite extension of the 2-week strike truce already granted by the union.

David J. McDonald, the union's president, said he could not believe Eisenhower intended that "we negotiate forever" and stressed the midnight July 14 walkout deadline will stand.

In Washington, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) told the senate that Eisenhower's appeal for an indefinite extension of steel negotiations without deadline or strike date is "the grossest kind of intervention in collective bargaining."

Ike Took Side

Humphrey said that although Eisenhower disclaimed taking sides in the crucial steel dispute, the president has "placed himself squarely on the side of the steel companies."

"While professing a hands-off attitude," Humphrey said, "the president told the steelworkers union that it should capitulate completely to the steel industry."

Negotiations have picked up a bit. Technical experts have been called in for discussions on complicated problems such as incentive pay rates. But there is no word that the industry has made any money offer.

Spurs Inflation

The nation's top dozen steel firms, led by U.S. Steel corporation, have taken a position that any higher wage costs would spur a new round of inflation. They have spurned union argument that industry profits can finance a new pay hike and other contract changes.

Steelworkers now average $3.10 hourly earnings. Eisenhower renewed at his Washington news conference yesterday a plea first made June 27 that both sides continue negotiations indefinitely without any strike until a new contract agreement is reached.

Senate Grants Funds For Six Navigation Projects in Wisconsin

Washington — (AP)—The senate appropriations committee Wednesday approved a bill providing funds for six navigation projects in Wisconsin.

The projects include: Construction—Bayfield harbor, $131,000; Two Rivers harbor, $74,000; Planning—Saxon harbor, $31,000; Bad river, Mellen channel, $25,000; Odanah, $25,000; Eau Claire river, $75,000.

The appropriations were part of a $1,253,836 399 construction and planning bill for water projects in the fiscal year which started July 1.

'Might Help Somebody' State Prison Convicts Donate to Blood Bank

BY STEVE LOWELL

Santa Fe, N. M. — (AP)—"I figure it won't hurt me. . . and it might help somebody on the outside."

That's the way a graying convict in the New Mexico State prison summed up his feelings about donating a pint of blood to the Southwestern Blood Bank.

He was among dozens who gave 100 pints at the penitentiary yesterday.

The idea of this "whole-sale" reservoir of blood took shape just recently, and Warden Harold Cox says he knows of no other prison—or any other institution or organization—where such a large-scale operation has been set up on a regular basis.

More to Donate

During the first large-scale donation last week, inmates gave 100 pints. Yesterday, 100 more men each gave a pint. Another 100 will donate next week.

The prison has more than 300 donors listed and 100 others of the 1,200 inmates were turned away because of physical defects.

"More and more are volunteering each day," Cox said.

The warden said the donors would be allowed to give one pint every four months to the blood bank.

Each donor gets 15 days knocked off his sentence each time he gives a pint of blood.

Warden Cox said that last week a prisoner with three days left of his sentence was

Bosses Picket Union Pickets

Toronto — (AP)—Pickets from the bakers' union closed in on the Bagel Bar last night, and owners Rachmil Wolfowicz and Gimpel Guttman promptly picketed the pickets.

Their signs read:

"We, the owners, are fighting to make a living. We have no baking workers. We do all our own baking. Let the union organize workers elsewhere, not bosses here."

A little later they returned to their ovens and put their signs in the window.

Wolfowicz and Guttman bought the shop two weeks ago. Local 181 of the bakery and confectionary workers union claims it is nonunion. The owners say they work from 6 a.m. to midnight in the shop, with the help only of their wives and a hired dishwasher.

Friendly Attack by 'Natives' Stalls 'Invasion' of Milwaukee

Police, Joined by Sailors, Have To Clear Way for Marine Invaders

Milwaukee — (AP)—An amphibious assault force of 850 marines waded ashore Wednesday at Milwaukee's McKinley beach—and were stopped in their tracks by the friendly natives.

The mock invasion on the shore of Lake Michigan was going strictly according to the script when suddenly lines holding back an estimated 200,000 spectators broke. About 20,000 persons swarmed onto the beachhead, threatening to drive the troops back into the water.

Tanks ground to a stop, heavy trucks loaded with marines and pulling heavy guns halted and became stuck in the sand. Rifle and machine gun fire with blank ammunition was suspended. And about that time the ramps on several of the landing craft failed to operate, bottling up marines and equipment.

Sailors Join Police

Police, joined by sailors from some of the 17 navy ships that have jammed the Milwaukee harbor, guided the crowd to safer areas, away from the machines and men of war. After 15 minutes, the assault ran its full course as part of Operation Inland Seas by Navy Task Force 47, touring the Great Lakes as part of the St. Lawrence Seaway celebration.

During the confusion of the friendly counterattack a deadly instrument called a simulator, a TNT-loaded device used to simulate shell bursts,

Assembly Approves Proposal, Option Up To Local Boards

Madison — (AP)—The Wisconsin assembly Wednesday passed a bill which would permit dismissal of public school pupils early to attend religious instruction classes.

The 57-41 vote for passage followed attempts to send it to committee and to kill it. The bill was sent to the senate. It would permit school boards to determine whether pupils could be dismissed an hour early one day a week.

Bill

A similar bill, which would have provided for release of pupils for religious instruction at any hour of the day, was killed last week. That bill was termed unconstitutional in an opinion by Atty. Gen. John Reynolds.

The assembly concurred in a senate-passed bill which would establish real estate apprenticeships under direction of the Wisconsin Real Estate Board.

The interim committee bill also would boost brokers and salesmen's license fees and prohibit non-resident brokers from hiring, but no more," said one young prisoner. "I gave blood about every four or six months on the outside."

Another older man said temporarily on the county bench.

"Fifteen days doesn't mean anything to me. I'm in here on an indefinite sentence. I senate killed an assembly—just give blood because I figured it must help somebody."

Maybe Warden Cox has state and county officers.

The appointment of Arthur Debardeleben, 41, of Park Falls, to the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents gives blood, he gives part of himself. It's like the boost received Senate confirmation they get in repairing or making toys for Christmas."

Both U. S., Russia Want Other Side To Believe It Could Make, Win War

BY GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

New York—What has come out of the Mikoyan visit, the Geneva conference, the Kozlov visit thus far is that both Soviet Russia and the United States are trying hard not to make war, but neither wishes the other to believe that it could not make and win a war if it had to.

Sokolsky

When the Geneva conference was on, Khrushchev, as usual, was traveling about making speeches from the sidelines. He has to have front billing all the time, which is his right in the Russian way of life. He had to yell down Gromyko who sat stonily waiting for a cue which apparently never came. The discouraging fact is that the Geneva conference might have paved the way to a summit conference which Khrushchev wants.

Kozlov, the current Russian envoy, is, next to Khrushchev and Mikoyan, the leading figure in present day Russia. He is heavy set and heavy-handed. He has none of the Armenian delicacy of Mikoyan and therefore made the stupid slip about Russia paying for American aid in the early 1920s when Herbert Hoover brought food to the starving Russians. A really smart man would have been better briefed.

Main Anti-Semite

Kozlov is reputed to have been Stalin's principal anti-Semite, the inventor of the Jewish doctors' plot case which was created to pave the way for blaming Stalin's death on Jewish conspirators—a plot that was completely proved to be false when Khrushchev came to power. The rise to high estate in Russia requires a peculiar leavening. Kozlov's was anti-Semitism when that fitted Stalin's mood.

The Russians like to threaten. They never stop threatening us over Berlin and yet they know that nothing could do them as much damage as a war. Granted that a war would hurt us just as much and perhaps even more, no matter what happens to us, all the newly-built establishments of Soviet industrialism would undoubtedly be wiped out during the first few days of a nuclear war. The Russians have calculated that risk and do not seek war.

What then would become of Soviet Russia? The cynic will ask what will become of the United States, but that is not here the issue. The issue is what would become of Soviet Russia, of its new installations, its factories, mills, mines and mountains of iron? They would, of course, be blown to rubble immediately. It is no longer a question as to who strikes the first blow, because all who are able to strike are in about equal position to strike and the blows would be simultaneous.

The Russians understand this perfectly. Therefore while Khrushchev threatens that if he is not invited to meet President Eisenhower face to face he will ultimately bury us, his associates come here and go to other countries speaking for peace while they reject every formula that could establish peace. But they never let go of the rope in this tug of war.

They continue keeping in or system in these days of people-to-people business for nuclear warfare is to risk all it is worth, hoping perhaps that one day, Americans will say what is Berlin or Formosa or Iran or even Cuba worth to us if we can have peace. Or they may assume that the Bolshoi Ballet or the Moscow State Orchestra will lure us into accepting dishonorable terms.

Measure of Sincerity

The measure of Russian or, for that matter, American sincerity, would be a disarmament treaty providing for neutral inspection, perhaps under the United Nations. Without inspection, a disarmament treaty is worthless. Such a treaty was written in Washington in 1922 with Japan, but when Pearl Harbor arrived, it was evident beyond doubt that the treaty had been violated by Japan.

A disarmament treaty without inspection is an open door to deceit among nations. To leave disarmament to an hon-

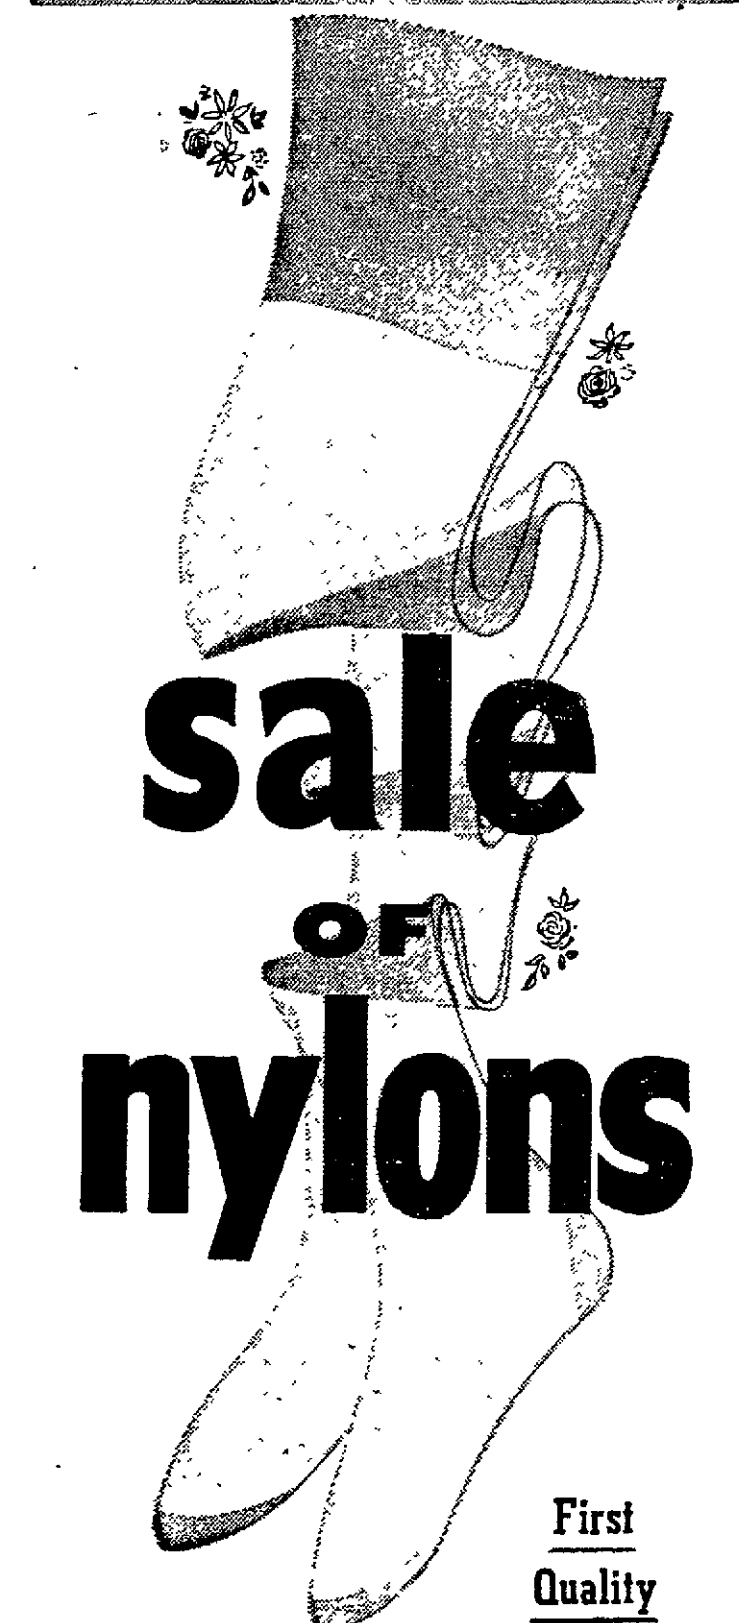

Loan Association Asks Curb Repair The curb in front of the Appleton Building and Loan association, 324 W. College avenue, should be repaired, the association complained to City Clerk Broehm in a letter Wednesday. People have been catching their heels in the curb when they walk to their cars, the letter said. The curb was broken up when meters were installed and it never had been properly replaced, it added.

miscellaneous tax bills, which the legislature has shown that it will be extremely reluctant to pass.

The official financial condition report also assumed that the 20 per cent individual income surtax, which expired on July 1, will be reenacted. Most legislators agree on that point.

Political Impact
While the picture of state financial conditions portrayed by the committee document had been known to informed legislators, the report crystallized the situation and had considerable political importance.

Republican opponents of the administration are certain to seize upon it as a campaign issue. The Republican state committee this week bought space in the state press to advertise the fact that the Nelson Democratic administration "inherited" a $16,000,000 surplus in spite of the accusations about Republican budget mismanagement in last year.

Young Ghouls Dig Up Skull for Own Version of TV Show

Jersey City, N.J. — Police nabbed seven boys ranging in age from 6 to 12 and said they had looted a graveyard of a human skull to hold their own version of a television horror show.

The boys were caught yesterday after police had found the skull, a candle stuck in it, in the basement of an unfinished housing project. Police picked them up when they returned to the basement for a horror session. They were released in custody of their parents pending juvenile action.

the Democratic campaign of last year.

What the administration will do to bridge the prospective deficit is not yet clearly indicated. There is no literal necessity for balancing the budget before the legislative recess. The revenue measures could be devised in the fall session, after the report of Nelson's celebrated tax study committee.

But such a course would be hazardous for the Democrats, who would expect the Republicans to exploit such a situation.

Several years ago the Republican administration faced a similar dilemma, and the Republican legislature insisted ed upon declaring the budget balanced, in defiance of budget bureau figures, by joint resolution of the two houses. Democrats derided that maneuver, but it turned out that the Republicans won their gamble. State revenues turned out to be larger than the budget technicians had estimated.

Profs Pester Pupils

Chambersburg, Pa. — Professor Robert E. Bell told his colleagues at a Wilson college faculty meeting that the students had requested a similar dilemma, and the faculty to be less noisy in the library.

Congress to Raise Ceiling on Loans, Rep. Byrnes Says

Washington — (AP) — Rep. John W. Byrnes (R-Wis.) said Wednesday he believes Democratic opposition will recede and congress will pass a bill to raise the interest ceiling on long term government loans.

Byrnes is a member of the house ways and means committee that is considering a request from President Eisenhower that the ceiling be raised.

The government now can pay no more than 4 1/2 per cent interest on loans of more than five years. There is no limit on the amount of interest the treasury can pay on loans under five years.

On another major problem before his committee, that of financing the interstate highway program, Byrnes said: "This monkey is on the back of congress to act or there will be no federal allocation of funds to continue the program next year. Unless congress acts quickly, there will have to be a sharp cutback on this highway program in many of the states within the next few months."

Byrnes, chairman of the house Republican policy committee, said he believes the ways and means committee should explore the possibility of temporarily raising the gas tax by three-fourths or 1 cent a gallon to bring in sufficient revenue to finance a less ambitious highway program.

CD Fallout Shelter Plans Available at Courthouse

A booklet containing specifications and plans for four types of fallout shelters is available for free distribution at Outagamie County Civil Defense Coordinator Andrew J. Schiltz's office in the county courthouse.

The booklet contains cost estimates, plans and general information about shelters. A check list for shelter supplies and titles of several books on medical care are included.

The shelters include one for a basement, material cost estimated at $150 to $200; an outside double wall shelter, material cost estimated at $700; at pre-shaped metal shelter, material cost estimated at $700; although a contractor probably would be needed to build it, and an underground concrete shelter, material cost estimated at $1,000 to $1,500. The underground shelter could be added to a new home as an additional basement room for an added cost of about $500, the office of civil and defense mobilization estimates.

Schiltz said contractors can call for the booklets or he will mail them in small quantities upon request.

Local civil defense directors also can obtain the booklets, Schiltz added.

ONE OF THE 7 BIG BESTS CHEVROLET GIVES YOU OVER ANY CAR IN ITS FIELD

Take it, not from us, but from official results of this year's Mobilgas Economy Run: Chevy's pennypinching 6 delivers the most miles per gallon in its field. For a pair of these Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide walked away with the first two places in their class, getting the best mpg figure—a whopping 22.88—of any full-size car. And here are more expert, impartial opinions and on-the-record facts backing us up on Chevy's other six bests:

BEST TRADE-IN
Check the figures in any N.A.D.A.* Guide Book. Chevrolet used car prices last year averaged up to $125 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

BEST STYLE
It's the only car of the leading low-priced 3 that's unmistakably modern in every line. "In its price class," says POPULAR SCIENCE magazine, "Chevrolet establishes a new high in daring styling."

BEST BRAKES
In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCARI, Chevrolet out-stopped both of the other leading low-priced cars—and why not? Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings, to help lengthen brake life by as much as 66%.

BEST ROOM
Official dimensions reported to A.M.A. make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

BEST ENGINE
Every motor magazine has given Chevrolet's standard and Corvette V-8's unstinted praise. As SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED puts it: "Indeed this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price."

BEST RIDE
MOTOR TREND magazine calls Chevy "the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. And your Chevrolet dealer can tell you about a long list of other advantages besides these 7 big ones!

Callas Starts Quarrel Over Spotlights

Amsterdam —(AP)—A spat over spotlights had Amsterdamers guessing today whether temperamental Maria Menghini Callas will sing with the likewise famed and temperamental Concertgebouw orchestra.

Miss Callas wants the spotlights on her and so does the orchestra.

The American-born soprano is booked to sing operatic arias by Verdi and Rossini with the orchestra during the Holland festival July 11.

Wants Dim Hall

"Miss Callas wishes to be completely reasonable," said festival manager Peter Diamond. "She wants one spotlight and a comparatively dark hall. The Concertgebouw considers that an unacceptable demand and humiliation if they play with somewhat less light than usual."

Diamond shrugged off the dispute as "a storm in a teacup."

Note so, said a member of the orchestra's executive.

Compromise Maybe

"Miss Callas may be Miss Callas," he said, "but the Concertgebouw orchestra is the Concertgebouw orchestra." tra.

The lights have never before been dimmed for the sake of a soloist, he said, adding a compromise still is trying to be worked out.

Diamond said if the orchestra persists in its refusal he hoped the performance of the famous singer will prevail over the hurt pride of the equally famous orchestra.

Hearing Set on Foreign Funds

Proxmire Proposes Study of Effect On Industry, Labor

Washington — Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) said Wednesday his proposed investigation of capital investments by American firms in foreign countries will open before the senate's international finance subcommittee Monday.

Proxmire said the purpose of the hearings will be to determine if U.S. industry and labor are suffering serious injury because of the transfer of production facilities overseas. "We all recognize the serious damage of exporting American jobs by building foreign factories with American capital," Proxmire said in a statement. "At the same time we know it is desirable to build up the economies of our friends throughout the free world. "We also know that the migration of capital to countries where wages are lower than in the United States is going to take jobs away from certain American workers," Proxmire added.

Parking Knot Still Tying Up Committee

Action Must Come Soon Because New Lot's Ready to Mark

What to do about revising parking meter charges and rules governing use of city-owned parking lots continues to worry the city council's public safety committee.

The Appleton Downtown Retail association has asked for increased parking meter charges; petitioners have entered protests.

Retailers, who seek improved parking facilities, also have called for formation of a city parking authority, backing up an idea advanced by Mayor Mitchell in his April "State of the City" address to the council. Agree on Meters Action of some kind will have to come soon, it became apparent at a recent committee meeting, because the 146-stall lot bounded by Lawrence, Morrison, Kimball and Allen streets was reported ready for marking of stalls.

Thursday, July 9, 1959 Appleton Post-Crescent A7

Committee members agreed that parking meters should be placed on the lot, but what to charge and the time limit for parking are sources of disagreement.

Two ideas seemed to dominate discussion:

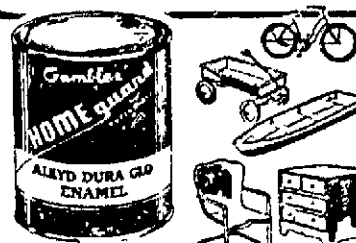

1. Whatever is done on the Lawrence street lot, say some committeemen, it will have to fit a general plan for all city parking spaces in the downtown area. This means, they continue, that the question of charges will have to be settled. This group believes an overall plan should establish higher cost-shorter term parking in the most often used area and provide for decreased cost and longer time limits farther from the central area.

Midget Cars 2. Perhaps the parking lot charges should be increased, says another faction, but the real answer is establishing a 12-hour time limit on all lots. All lots should have the same time limit and charges to avoid confusing the public.

Ald. Mrs. Stollings again made a plea for conversion of unused areas on the 146-stall Lawrence street lot to parking stalls for midget cars. The engineering department's drawing of the stalls shows 18 spaces which might be converted to this use.

A Tale of Two Airports

Two Winnebago county supervisors have protested the transfer of two flights a day — one northbound and one southbound — from the Winnebago county airport at Oshkosh to the Outagamie county airport at Appleton. County Board Chairman Joseph Drexler and Aviation Committee Chairman Alvin Staffeld have written North Central Airlines that the growth of air traffic at the Winnebago port justifies increased, rather than decreased, service there. They further point out that Winnebago county "has continually improved and expanded its facilities for modern air travel . . . and is continuing to do so."

We are glad these two Winnebago county leaders have made this protest, for it brings out into the open a fact of which we are sure many people in both Winnebago and Outagamie counties have been aware, but which perhaps they have been somewhat hesitant to face. We are speaking of the fact that the inevitable increase in air traffic at the Outagamie county airport is going to come, at least to some extent, at the expense of the Winnebago port.

The two supervisors are perfectly correct when they state that Winnebago county has provided an excellent facility for air travel: they would, in fact, be justified in going farther and saying that Winnebago county has been one of the most progressive in Wisconsin in this respect. The county board, other civic leaders and citizens of Winnebago county deserve full credit for the foresight and imagination they have shown in this matter.

But let's face some facts. We have done a lot of breast-beating here in Outagamie county about the mistakes we made in the past in airport planning; we are now in the process of facing up to those mistakes and correcting them. But in all the discussion that has taken place over Outagamie county's mistakes perhaps the citizens of both counties have overlooked the fact that Winnebago county made a bad mistake too — when it placed its airport south of the city of Oshkosh, rather than north of it. Had the latter been the case the Winnebago port undoubtedly would have become the air travel center for both the Fox Cities and the Oshkosh areas, and we doubt if any serious movement ever would have been started to persuade an airline to stop at Appleton. But the Winnebago port as now located is just too far from the Fox Cities — it is 22 miles from downtown Appleton, and over 25 miles from Kaukauna and the tri-villages — to serve adequately as an air travel center for Fox Cities people. That is why there has been such a strong movement to bring airline service to the Outagamie county port, a movement which has now been successful.

Democrats and Annexation

Legislation which would permit annexation by cities of adjoining property by a secret ballot of the people in the territory to be annexed has been adopted by the Wisconsin Senate but may be lost in the rush as the legislature approaches adjournment unless special action is taken. The bill was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Leo P. O'Brien of Green Bay, and Assemblyman Jerome Quinn, also of Green Bay, is now making an effort to have some action taken on it in the Assembly.

This legislation is important and desirable for many reasons. They were well stated by Quinn recently as he set about the business of getting it before the Assembly. The bill provides that the city or village wishing to annex a piece of territory may petition a circuit court for a hearing on the proposal. If the court holds the annexation request is proper it would order a referendum within 30 days.

Quinn points out that the proposed law would provide a simple, workable method of annexation. It gives the people involved the right to make the decision by secret ballot. It is much preferable to the right to petition for annexation since it permits the residents to make a decision free from pressure or criticism by neighbors. It permits the city councils to initiate the proceedings

With the advantage of hindsight, we can now see that the two counties 15 years ago should have gotten together and built a bi-county airport midway between Oshkosh and the Fox Cities.

The problem today, however, is not to wail over past mistakes, but to avoid future ones. The Fox Cities have an urban population of about 120,000, Oshkosh about 60,000. Airline officials have estimated that about 65 per cent of the business at the Winnebago airport has come from the Fox Cities — considering the population differential, that is not surprising. If Outagamie county provides an airport that is even close to the Winnebago port in the quality of its facilities and is at all conveniently located for the people of all the Fox Cities — and we are reasonably sure Outagamie county is going to do just that in the next few years — then the outcome of any competition between the two is not difficult to predict.

But is such competition necessary, to say nothing of being desirable? What we have done here in the Fox valley has been to create a situation in which the airline is being asked to stop at three airports — Green Bay, Appleton and Oshkosh — each less than 30 miles from the next one. (The map published by North Central in Tuesday's Post-Crescent shows clearly that these three stops are the closest together of any on the system.) To be sure, all three stops are not made on the same flights, but the airline must maintain ground installations and personnel at all three, and the flights must be divided up among them. We see a further danger — that the result of competition between the Winnebago and Outagamie airports will result in each getting less-than-adequate service while Green Bay runs off with the gravy, of which it has a good share already.

Thus while we do not object to the protest filed by the two Winnebago county leaders — they are only fighting for their county's interests, as they have done so well over the years — we think it is time that citizens and supervisors of both counties began to do some deep thinking about the kind of an airport and air service situation we are creating here. This kind of thinking is especially important when we consider making important new investments in our present airports.

Outagamie county, in the past, has made serious mistakes in its airport planning, mistakes which it has lived with for a good many years now. Winnebago county also made a bad mistake, which we suspect it is just beginning to live with. What we fear is that both counties may be about to make some more mistakes together, which they will live with for a long time.

Auto Drivers Fail to Heed Warnings to Use Care on Roads

Editor, Post-Crescent:

In view of the appalling and unnecessary number of highway deaths on holidays, my husband and I usually stay home. However, this year we rashly decided to accompany some friends with a boat to a lake 40 miles from Neenah. We followed their car in ours. The trip up was made without incident; we had a fine time and started home about 7 p.m.

My husband is a careful driver and was trying to stay the correct number of car lengths behind our friends with the boat but there were three morons crowding up right behind us. Suddenly we had to stop. We had no trouble staying away from the car ahead but the car behind us swerved over to the right, the one behind him had to quickly cross to the other lane and the last car just barely missed hitting everybody.

As soon as we were again under way everybody inched up close to us again and began passing at the slightest, and I emphasize slightest, opportunity.

My opinion is that 90 per cent of the drivers today either cannot read or cannot comprehend what they read. Any magazine, paper, television or radio station in business had stories and programs on safe driving before this holiday, as usual, and still 300-odd people died. My husband and I both read an editorial from this paper entitled "The Man Behind the Wheel" and drove more carefully because of it.

It's too bad that species called "Careless Driver" multiplies, otherwise in another few years they'd all be killed off and the few safe drivers there are today could go on trips and not have to drive with hearts in mouths.

I can't stand on the highway and shout to everyone "Please drive carefully" but this letter was a good way to blow off steam.

Errors Make Life Interesting or Put It All Up in Air

From The Cleveland Plain Dealer

The story of the Columbus school lad who illustrated the song "America the Beautiful" with a fruit-bedecked airplane to show the "fruited plane" reminds somehow of the reported RAF order to Canada for "air screws" (propellers) during World war II. This became "air crews" in transmission and the RAF shipped over numbers of unexpected personnel. Or so the story went.

Oh yes, there was the account of the broad-accented westerner who told the Army classified he was a rodeo hand — and the classifier dispatched him for further radio schooling. And an Air Force sergeant whose orders were supposed to read Oran, in North Africa, wound up in Iran, courtesy of a typographical error. Or so the stories went.

Nelson's Tax Hikes Will be Voted Down

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Most of the Nelson legislative program of this year is plausible enough, given his personal history and the record of his campaign pledges and proposals.

A curious exception is the bundle of tax propositions submitted by the legislative joint finance committee and almost certain death.

The governor is an experienced politician, as Wisconsin governors go. He sat for 10 years in the legislature and had a front row opportunity to study legislative psychology and the possibilities in legislative politics.

Most men with far less experience could have predicted that what now is happening to the governor's plans for additional taxation of beer and cigars and the rest would happen.

Why then did he and his staff submit these bills? There is a chance, at the least, that they represent a gesture — a gesture toward balancing the first year budget that would be required by the etiquette of the situation. With the inevitable failure of the "package" the governor can probably let tax matters drift until the fall session, when the major tax revisions so loudly heralded for months will be prepared for the lawmakers.

THE EXPLANATION

That fall session will almost surely provide hefty boosts in general taxation — for the man on the street — if the governor has his way.

Even if he is forced into compromise with the Republican senate, as seems virtually certain, the general public's tax bill will be substantially raised. There appears to be no alternative, given the pace of higher spending even with the conservative possessing a veto power. The prospect is so bleak, indeed, that even this liberal administration is asking for a politically hazardous bonding program in order to reduce the immediate pain of tax increases.

But why, it may be asked, income tax withholding whether it is double taxation in its initial stages or single taxation with forgiveness.

Consistently the organized taxpayers have recognized withholding in any form as a springboard to higher income tax rates and as a serious threat to basic tax and property tax relief which they feel is essential to economic growth.

if the general taxpayer has such an outlook is the legislature so sensitive toward the wails of the selected industries that are already taxed and might logically expect some increases also?

The reasons lie in the logistics of politics, rather than in the equities.

There has been a good deal of publicity about the "beer lobby" in connection with the pressure against a small additional tax on beer.

But a strictly truthful explanation would give major credit to the brewery worker unions. Legislators are no inclined to pay much attention to breweries as corporations. They listen carefully to the unions with their thousands of members. Among Democrats, especially, the brewery workers union gets a more respectful hearing than almost any other.

THE FARMER

The story is much the same on the proposed extension of the tobacco products tax to cover all smoking tobacco and cigars. Cigar tobacco is one of the products of Wisconsin agriculture. It is a minor one, indeed, but the voice of the farmer sounds like the voice of the vast multitude when it is transmitted through his organizations. The average legislator would do almost anything to avoid a direct political affront to the farmer. The city legislator worried about beer taxation and the fellow with rural constituents, and especially tobacco producers, finds it easy and natural to make an alliance that suits the necessities of both.

Other elements of Gov. Nelson's unfortunate tax package have prospects almost equally poor, including his proposal to get rid of the life insurance inheritance tax exemption.

Morning Kiss Keeps Your Wife Happy

From The Raleigh, Inc., News And Observer

Comic strips and TV have made us supremely conscious of the good-bye, morning kiss. The wife who doesn't get some kind of facial brush feels more grievously cheated than those 3-time presidential losers, Clay and Bryan. The wife who is too considerate to call her husband's office, even if the house is afire, will call to upbraid him for neglecting the farewell smooch.

If the husband makes some serious blunder at work, the wife ascribes it to his carelessness on the front steps. The reasons appear to be two-fold: Subconsciously the auf wiedersehen peck seals mate and soul-mate throughout the long day. The after breakfast kiss is a talisman, a charm to fend off evil. Vicariously, it connects the wife with the spouse all through the far marts of commerce.

The second motivation is sheer grandstanding: To be kissed inside the front door is better than not being kissed at all. But to be kissed outside, on the steps, is to the wife what Washington's portrait is to Gilbert Stuart. The really adroit wife arranges matters so that the outside smooch occurs just as the others in the neighborhood are leaving for work. So exposed, the hapless husband feels silly as a Hollywood columnist at an August revival. But his wife is a bigger stick in the community, for a few hours, than Ike was before he became president.

Show Goes on At Kelly Circus

Animals Perform At Valley Fair Despite Rain

BY MICHELE MATHEWS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

At last the show did go on. But just barely, for the heavy overcast that moved suddenly over Appleton shortly before the Paul Kelly circus started its 3:30 p.m. show Wednesday at Valley Fair produced rain just as six ponies were being led from the ring.

A few minutes before, as skies became more threatening, and the rumble of thunder was heard, the bicycle riders included in the young crowd had begun to break away.

When the rain began coming down in sheets, youngsters ran for cars, still carrying their popcorn and balls of flavored ice in paper cones.

Not Quite Ready "We weren't quite ready, you know," Mrs. Kelly explained as she stepped from the ring after showing off Dinah, the baby elephant. "We thought it was going to rain, but then people were waiting."

Although rain broke off the performance less than 20 minutes after it began, what there was good.

Lions More Fierce Armed at first with only a whip and long pole, he picked up chair and gun as the lions seemed to become more fierce and the crowd more excited.

The lions stood on hind legs in balancing feats and walked on barrels, frequently snarling and nearly repeating the swipe given Tuesday night, as Hartman often performed with his back to at least one of them.

Lawrence Says:

Housing Bill Inflationary, President Says

Democrats Can Take Stand on Spending By Defeating It

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — The Democrats who are warring with each other in congress over the course that should be taken toward the president's veto of the housing bill will have a chance to count noses on the issue presented by President Eisenhower's rejection of the housing bill passed by both houses.

Shall the measures be treated as a political football or be considered on its merits? If, as Chairman Butler of the Democratic National committee advocates, the president's vetoes should be overridden irrespective of the weight of his arguments, then the Democrats in congress who vote to override the veto in this case particularly run the risk of being characterized as "spenders."

For the veto message squarely makes this the central issue. The president says the measure, if enacted, would spend $22 billion as compared with the $810 million he recommended. This would mean a big increase in the treasury's deficit.

More Serious Defects But there are other and more serious defects in the proposed legislation. Not only are there 100,000 housing units already authorized that haven't been built as yet but the bill would authorize 190,000 more. It is the effect on the financial situation in the country which disturbs the president most as he says: "The bill is inflationary."

The spending authorizations of senate bill no. 57, taken together with other seriously objectionable provisions would be inflationary and, therefore, an obstacle to constructive progress toward better housing for Americans.

"One of the most damaging effects of inflation is that it dries up the sources of long term credit. There is perhaps no industry in the nation more heavily dependent for its operations on long term funds borrowed at reasonable rates of interest than the housing industry. We have made good progress in the fight against inflation but we cannot win that fight if we add one spending program to another without thought of how they are going to be paid for, and invite deficits in times of general prosperity. No one can gain from a fiscal policy of this inflationary type — least of all, the housing industry."

The president clinches that point with the comment that the proposed legislation would "substitute federal spending for private investment" and that, instead of stimulating private investment, it "would drive private credit from the areas where it is urgently needed."

Eisenhower argues that the artificial requirement that the Federal National Mortgage association "must buy mortgages at par under its special assistance program, regardless of the price that these mortgages command in the open market," would be inflationary.

But there are also other damaging provisions. The president speaks of the "needless limitations" on the Federal Housing Administration's program that "would impair the FHA's soundness." He predicts that the bill would continue the FHA programs on "an uncertain, hand-to-mouth basis."

The president asks that the bill be rewritten in line with specific recommendations he makes that would carry out the general objectives of urban renewal, provide additional mortgage insurance authority and make other desirable changes in existing laws. He asks for the power to raise statutory interest rate ceilings under FHA's regular rental housing and cooperative housing programs.

These questions touch the heart of the nation's economy. Inflationary legislation can bring on a whole series of disastrous effects on the money markets of the country as well as on the many industries that are related to housing programs.

Will the members the senate and house line up on the roll-calls to vote for an inflationary program that further unbalances the budget? If they do, the country can readily tell who are the "spenders" and who are the "savers."

Until now a large number of Democrats in congress have denied that they were on the "spending" side. The housing bill just vetoed by President Eisenhower affords an opportunity for them to end the argument by identifying all those who favor spending irrespective of the budget and those who want the purchasing power of the dollar maintained on a sound basis.

Connecticut Drivers Buy Back Stolen Automobiles for $1

Putnam, Conn. — Fifteen Connecticut motorists who feared all was lost when it was discovered they had innocently purchased stolen automobiles are singing the blues no longer.

They bought their cars back for one dollar each yesterday from General Motors corporation.

The 15 had purchased the vehicles thinking they were factory-delivered, but it was subsequently learned the autos had been stolen from Massachusetts dealers.

Police said a Pomfret Landing auto dealer — Charles Griffin — admitted stealing the autos. Griffin is awaiting sentencing by U. S. district court at Hartford on 16 counts of interstate transportation of stolen vehicles.

A General Motors spokesman said that insurance companies paid off GM claims for the stolen cars, thus the dollar sale was originated to return the cars to their purchasers. The cars had been impounded by police.

Engel, credited with saving at least 15 in his rowboat. "But when I reached the beach I was shocked to see a ship afire and scores of screaming people fighting to get into the water."

"When I was beside the ship the first time, she was in the middle of the lake. If the accident had occurred only 10 yards nearer to the shore, many of those aboard might have been saved just by walking into the shallow water."

Niels Thomsen, another witness, said the first rowboat to reach the stricken excursion craft was capsized by about 20 panicky passengers. About 20 leaped into the rowboat from the burning boat and others in the water clung to the rowboat's side until it went over.

Tells How Wife Died A weeping young man said he and his wife jumped into the water when the ship caught fire. His wife had managed to grab a life belt. En route to shore, he said, his wife gave the life belt to a screaming mother who was trying to keep herself and her baby afloat. Then his wife suddenly disappeared.

Fourteen of the survivors were hospitalized with burns. Some, including Capt. Hans Rustofte, were in critical condition.

Survivors said Capt. Rustofte tried vainly to calm the passengers and reach the lifebelts. While flames shot out of the engine room the panicky crowd beat him back, and he returned to the wheel.

Rustofte and a ticket collector were believed the only crew of the small boat which carried picnic parties along the wooded shores of Haderslev park lake in this quiet south Jutland resort 30 miles north of the German border.

Mildred H. Ovand, lives at Coppelia Cove, Texas. Wounded — Capt. Howard B. Boston, wife, Mrs. Ardys Allene Boston, route 3, Blairsburg, Iowa.

The attack occurred at the South Viet Nam army's training center at Bienhoa. The five U. S. officers were members of the U. S. military assistance advisory group (MACV) stationed in South Viet Nam to train President Ngo Dinh Diem's anti-communist forces in the use of American weapons.

First Since 1957 President Diem, now touring central Viet Nam, was informed of the attack. His interior minister, vice president and presidential secretary of state went to Bienhoa on learning of the attack.

The attack was the first on Americans in South Viet Nam since Oct. 22, 1957, when Terrorists bombed the U. S. Information agency library, an American military bus and a U. S. hostel, all in Saigon.

Thirteen American servicemen and five Asians were wounded. None of the Americans were hurt seriously. The war between France and the communist Viet Minh ended in July, 1954, with the signing of an armistice at Geneva partitioning Viet Nam. Since then there have been sporadic terrorist attacks in South Viet Nam by small bands of supporters of communist President Ho Chi Minh's North Viet Nam regime.

U. S. Governors Relax by Attending Moscow Circus

Moscow — Seven American governors attended a performance of the Moscow circus, relaxing after visiting various government agencies during the day.

They applauded a trained bear riding a motorcycle and with a large group of American tourists in the Soviet capital, cheered performances of acrobats and jugglers. There

Earlier in the evening, Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey and Gov. Stephen McNichols of Colorado visited the headquarters of Gosplan, the state planning agency that decides what the Soviet union will be producing. Gosplan maps out the manpower program, industrial growth and raw material development for the 7-year plan.

Gosplan officials told the governors the agency also plans future educational and cultural activities and decides on the expansion of technical institutes to meet professional manpower needs.

They said they get general directives from the council of ministers and receive development plans from the various republics.

Charlie Reflects, Remembers Old Penney Candy, Children's Delight

BY CHARLIE HOUSE
If I may continue to permit memory to linger, at least for the duration of today's stint, I remember that things were different in my boyhood days.
I remember some of the candies which gladdened a boy's heart, and I wonder if such delightful things still are made. I remember the tin plate of sweet goo which cost a penny and came with a little tin spoon.
I remember the gumballs on a long rubber band. The thing to do was to bounce the candy on the sidewalk, on the head of your buddy, against walls and curbstones. One played, first, with that contrivance and when it was no longer possible to resist, one did the only thing remaining—one ate it. Slowly, ever so slowly to make it last.

The things kids hate: I remember a boy in my class who was addicted to the grade school paste we used to make our pretties. He would dip his fingers bravely into the huge jars and consume the paste by the handfuls. We all tasted it, but my friend alone craved it. . . . And all of us chewed, gooey and sticky, on a hot day.

Penny Candy
I remember that for the price of a penny one could procure a long roll of paper upon which 100 candy drops clung in rows. The thing to do was to gnaw the candy drops directly from the paper. Never mind if half of the paper was eaten in the process! One ate the pink ones first, or, say, every third pink one and every third brown one or every third white one. The final droplet of candy—if a boy was artistic—was left as nearly in the center of the paper as possible. The boy who ate it immediately had no sense of the dramatic nor did he know the pleasures of holding off until the pangs of hunger and the delirium of anticipation were precisely equal. Only then did one dine upon the last tiny morsel.

I remember . . . I remember . . . there were licorice whips, too. Eat them? Never, never, until they had been employed to spank the legs of every girl in the room, and to sting the hands of every boy. Only then, when the licorice whip was shaggy and dirty and frayed and falling apart—only then were they eaten.

St. John Bread
I recall, too, that occasionally my mother would give me a piece of St. John bread which was tough, but sweet with a strange, exotic flavor. (Grandma called it Johannes brood, and some of the families in my neighborhood called it "sweetbrod," and it surely was.)

I remember little waxen harmonicas which one played erratically but which contained a pink syrup one could drink after tuneless attacks upon the harmonica. The wax was chewable and was sufficient to choke a boy brave enough to try it all at once, as who wouldn't?

I remember small, highly chewy teddy bears which were wondrously inexpensive and which tasted and tasted. Are they still on the market?

Best of all I remember the man at the candy store. He was, I think, very old then, but his patience never faltered. A boy or girl would walk into his strange smelling store where there were wooden barrels of crackers and sour pickles (three whopping pickles sold for a nickel), and groceries of every kind, I suppose.

Fun Searching
One walked to the screened-in window, a penny clutched in a hot, dirty hand and contemplated the rows of candy. Part of the fun was in looking so one always hoped that the candy man would not come over very soon. But at length he did, hobbling a little bit. Ever so slowly he would draw open the sliding screen and let a boy have an unimpaired view of the beautiful candies.

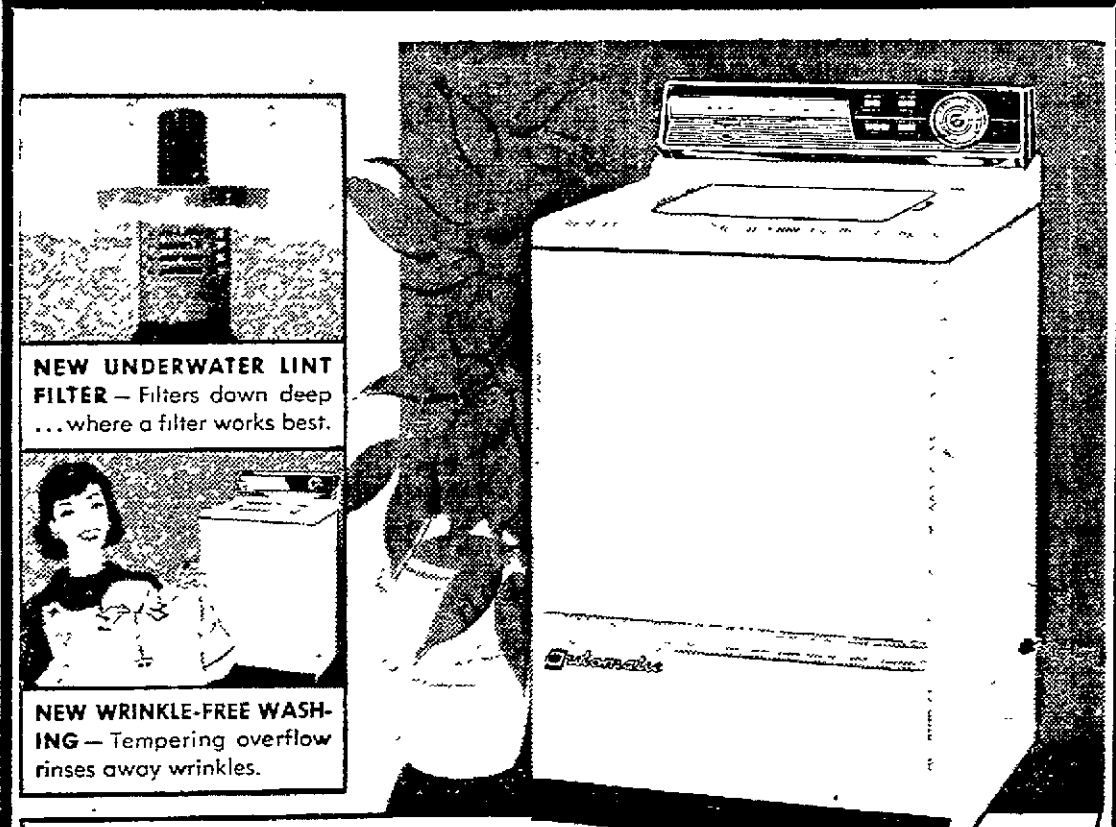

The candy man would stand there and stand there, saying nothing and a boy could choose five or six times, change his mind, and choose still another. The candy man did not complain, not ever.

Sometimes, if he felt good and his feet did not hurt, he would let a boy with a penny keep him occupied for 10 minutes at a time while the boy cogitated upon how, however in the world he would make up his mind when so many beautiful things were there before him, each kind for a penny.

Salesman Patient
Sometimes the candy man would be a little impatient and he would say, "Well, sonny?" But mostly he would let a boy linger and change his mind several times.

If somebody (like a visiting uncle) was so wild as to give you a nickel, you could be a little reckless. "I will take some of these," you would tell the candy man, and you would point, "and some of those, and some of these here, and some of this kind here. Is that a nickel's worth?"

I remember, I remember. Don't you?

Law Extending 1-Ways Held In Committee

Await Council's Action on Veto By Mayor Mitchell

Ordinance changes that would extend 1-way traffic to Wisconsin avenue on Oneida and Appleton streets will await council action on Mayor Mitchell's veto of the idea.

This was the ruling of the welfare and ordinance committee when the committee took up items referred to it from the last council meeting.

Councilmen last week approved the extensions 16-to-3. Mitchell vetoed the proposition Monday.

The committee also is holding the proposed closing of upper Lawe street and elimination of 1-way traffic on John street between upper Lawe street and Meade street.

Fear Collapse

Chairman Harold Hanne- mann explained that City Atty. Jury has not yet com- pleted the drafting of the or- dinance.

Street committeemen and the council ordered the closing out of fear the crumbling retaining wall between upper and lower Lawe streets may collapse.

Other committee actions: All licenses requested at last week's council meeting were granted with the exception of a bartender's license for a man who has been on relief several times in the past.

Relief Director Flagstad said he doesn't believe the man, employed and supporting his family now, should be given the license. Committeemen said they will talk with the man at their next meeting.

Beer License

There also was some discussion before approval was given for a special beer license for George R. Kloes, who was awarded concession rights for the recreation commission's softball tournament at Interlake park July 23, 24, 25 and 26.

It was said there are no toilet facilities at the park, there is little money involved (the city's 11 per cent share of gross receipts last year amounted to about $80) and Kloes does not represent a civic organization, a fact which might open the way for privately-operated concessions in a number of places.

Revocation Total Drops for 6 Months

Madison — (AP) — A total of 12,044 Wisconsin drivers lost driving privileges in the first six months of this year for traffic violations, the state motor vehicle department reported.

The total in the same period of 1958 was 13,027.

Department Commissioner James Karns said that records show the number of extremely serious violations calling for immediate mandatory revocation of licenses had dropped, while the number of less serious violations had increased.

Around Home..

Boys may be made of snails and puppy dogs tails, as the old poem goes, but Combined Locks Village Clerk Mrs. Irene Verstegen has discovered they can have a peculiar affinity for rats' tails, too.

Two boys came to the door of her home with a small paper bag containing 27 rats' tails.

At the time, Mrs. Verstegen was on her job only about two weeks but she soon discovered that an old village ordinance provides for a 5 cents - a - tail payment as "bounty." She paid — $1.35 — after counting them one by one.

Navy Ships Visit Manitowoc Port

Manitowoc is among three Wisconsin port cities to be visited by naval warships this weekend as part of the Atlantic fleet cruise on the Great Lakes during operation Inland Seas.

All the ships entered the St. Lawrence seaway as part of the dedication ceremonies and participated in celebrations in Milwaukee and Chicago.

Manitowoc will be visited by two veterans of World War II, the destroyers Henley and Ault. The Henley is commanded by a Wisconsin-born man, Commander Grant B. Gordon, Oconto. Visiting hours will be 1 to 5 and 6:30 to 8 p. m. Friday to Monday.

Menominee and Marinette harbors will be visited by submarine Torsk and destroyer DuPont, one of the most modern destroyers in the navy. Visiting hours will be 1 to 4 p. m. Saturday and Sunday and 9:30 to 11 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m. Monday.

Sheboygan will be host to destroyers Keith and Waldron and the submarine Quillback. They will be open to visitors during the day Friday to Monday.

Council Sent Candee Street Name Change

Means Span Would Be Called 'College Avenue Bridge'

An ordinance changing the name of Candee street to College avenue will be presented at Wednesday's city council meeting.

The change was proposed some time ago by Ald. Thomas K. Schneider and approved by the council in an effort to establish a non-controversial name for the new $1 million high level bridge.

Schneider, in calling for the name change, pointed out that all bridges in the city are named after their approaching street and this would mean the high bridge would be called "The College Avenue Bridge."

The change would not eliminate the name of Candee street entirely. A small section of the street extending north from Walter avenue will continue to be known as Candee street.

If approved by the council, the ordinance also would force a change in the name of the street extension being shown in the tentative Schaefer plat now before the city planning commission.

Approval Wednesday will mean the proposal will be published. After publication, it will be returned to the council for a final vote before becoming law.

Also recommended by the committee was an ordinance amendment which would rezone the southeast corner of Meade street and Woodland avenue from multiple family to local business district. This would permit construction of a clinic by Dr. Edward Zeiss. The deed to the property restricts building to the clinic only, a stipulation required earlier by the planning commission and the council.

Arab World's Biggest City Is Bursting

Cairo — The biggest city in the Arab world is bursting at the seams.

A steady stream of Egyptians pouring in from all parts of the country has doubled Cairo's population in 10 years, boosting it to four million.

Officials of the United Arab republic are troubled by the fact that Cairo's housing program has not kept pace with the 100 per cent population rise. In the past decade building has advanced only 18 per cent.

Sleep in Parks
Hundreds of persons sprawl in the city's parks at night. Others sleep in building entrances and alleys.

A large percentage of these immigrants from the rural areas are soldiers who have been attracted by Cairo's night life and find it difficult to return to their mud hut villages or farms.

Thousands of students who pour in every year to Cairo's two big universities also refuse to return to the farm after completing their studies. Of the 10,000 who graduate each year, less than 10 per cent go home.

Glutted with People
As a result, Cairo is glutted with lawyers, doctors and engineers, while there is a crying need for such talent in the smaller towns.

Schoolteachers are also a problem. Many resign rather than accept transfer outside the capital.

Cairo holds a fascination for the Egyptian, not only because of its wide boulevards, neon lights and shiny skyscrapers. It is also the cultural and industrial center of the country. It is the home of the nation's movie industry and the site of its big newspapers.

To the average Egyptian, Cairo is New York and Hollywood combined.

3 Researchers Give Report on Vegetable Oils

Chicago — Vegetable oils will produce a lowering of the blood cholesterol levels only when combined with a diet that is sharply limited in the use of saturated or "hard" fats, three New York researchers report.

The addition of unsaturated fats to the diet has frequently been suggested as a way of reducing cholesterol levels and thereby perhaps helping to prevent heart disease.

However, unsaturated fats will not help unless the diet is restricted in saturated fats, such as beef fat, according to Dr. Richard Perkins, Dr. Irving S. Wright, and Barbara W. Gatte, B.S., of the vascular section of the New York Hospital — Cornell University Medical college department of medicine.

Writing in the journal of the American Medical Association, they reported giving two types of unsaturated fats — safflower oil and corn oil — to 22 medical students for periods of seven weeks.

The students followed their normal diets with the addition of the vegetable oils. The oils also contained vitamin E (Vitamin B6) which is thought to be involved in fat metabolism.

As had been the case in previous studies, there was a considerable variation from week to week in the cholesterol levels of individuals, the researchers said. There was a slight downward trend in the levels, but at no time was the decrease statistically significant.

Appleton Brothers Face Charges of Resisting Arrest

Chilton — Two Appleton brothers face charges in circuit court of resisting arrest after being involved in a fight at Lake park.

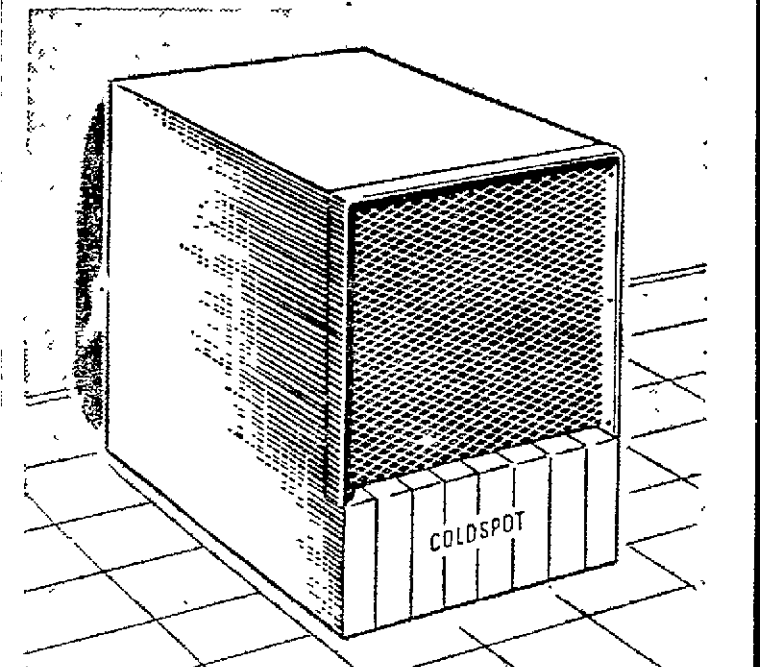

They are Edward Miller, 24, and Earl, 23. Justice of the Peace Wilbur R. Winch said there was evidence that an offense had been committed and sent their case to circuit court. He set $500 bond each.

Bond for Earl Miller was posted but his brother remained in the sheriff's custody.

Mix Matrimony, Alcohol to Get Popular Marriage-on-the-Rocks

BY HOWARD WHITMAN

Mix matrimony with heavy drinking, chill, and stir briskly, cord listed drinking as the and you get marriage-on-the-rocks. It's a concoction that's prime cause in 30 per cent of becoming tragically popular at the nation's bars—of justice. In Arkansas, a fam-

Here, typical of cases heard every day, is verbatim testi- mony from the Common Pleas court of Philadelphia:

Lawyer: When did your husband start this drinking?

Woman, suing for divorce: Well, he used to drink right after we were married, but nothing ever came of it. . .

Lawyer: Then what happened?

Woman: He took to staying out two or three nights a week. He would come home blind drunk about 3 or 4 a.m., unfit to go to work the next day. Finally, he lost his job. He got another, and for a while everything was all right, but then it started all over again.

Master, appointed by judge to take testimony: You mean he got drunk two or three times a week?

Woman: Never less than that. For a year or so before our separation it seemed like it was almost every other night.

Master: Where did he get the money?

Woman: I'll never know. He was always with a crowd of men. They always seemed to have enough to buy drinks.

Lawyer: Did your husband give you enough to run the house?

Couldn't Hold Job

Woman: He did at first—when he was working, but for the last couple of years he couldn't hold a job. He tried half a dozen different ones but couldn't hold them. We were always moving, too. We lived in seven or eight different houses . . . we couldn't pay the rent . . .

Lawyer: Did he mistreat you in any way?

Woman: Well, most of the time he didn't bother me, but I was never sure. Sometimes he would come home and for no reason start punching me. I used to have to lock myself in the children's room. I could hear him downstairs throwing chairs around. Once he threw a clock at me.

Lawyer: Did he mistreat the children?

Woman: No, he never went in their room. They were afraid of him, though. We all families torn by marital discord listed drinking as the prime cause in 30 per cent of the cases. In Arkansas, a family service official estimated that 50 per cent of the divorces involved alcohol. A Kentucky survey of "reasons for unhappiness" among women with sour marriages found "husband's drinking" listed second, topped only by "the way the money is handled."

Alcohol appears, on the surface at least, an execrable villain. But there is more to the story. If drinking were a cause in itself, how is it that millions of married couples drink quite a bit and remain happily in love?

A woman goes to a lawyer and starts her tale of woe with, "Everything was all right until my husband started drinking." And in that very line is the joker. Everything wasn't all right. That's why he started drinking. Today the enlightened judge recognizes excessive drinking as a symptom, like a fever which is not a basic disorder but rather a signal that something more fundamental is awry.

Instead of trying to cure the malady by destroying the marriage, he tries to cure the person and save the marriage. He sends the excessive drinker for counseling or treatment to a family agency, a psychiatrist, or A.A.

Person Needs Cure

In its nearly quarter-century of experience with big drinkers, Alcoholics Anonymous has learned, among many things, that "the causes of alcoholism may stem from the problem drinker's early childhood and (many married couples) have assumed, mistakenly, that the alcoholic drinks to excess solely as an expression of rebellion against his or her mate."

In other words, it might be as bad in any marriage. Cure the person!

Sometimes drink is made the scapegoat. A woman recently went to the Alcoholism Information center in New York, inquiring, "My husband is drinking. Should I leave him?"

"How long has this drinking been going on?" she was asked.

"Ever since we were married," she replied.

"How long have you been married?"

"Eighteen years."

It was obvious that the woman had become bored with her mate and was seeking an excuse to slough him off. Drinking, since it has an air of damnation about it, seemed the convenient way to do him in, while at the same time retaining a high moral pose for herself. Actually the poor fellow liked his beer and merely went overboard occasionally while watching a fight and downed a whole quart. To be sure, there was a lot wrong with the marriage but it wasn't bottle trouble.

Habitual drunkenness is a ground for divorce in all but eight states and the District of Columbia. Yet the amazing fact is not that so many mates of alcoholics seek freedom via the divorce court but rather that so many stick with their spouses through hell and high liquor.

'Drink Up' Wives

ed against the property tax action at the last minute," as assistance. No legislature has values of that time, would be the governor recently put it in thus far ever given serious the equivalent of $32,000,000, a message to a legislative consideration to such a proposal, although Nelson claims that the debt clause was never intended to be "sacrosanct."

Dislikes Dummy

That the governor is aware of the dubious reception to his proposal is indicated by the extraordinary publicity efforts he is indulging. The plan is to encourage wide public discussion of the matter, in the hope that voters and taxpayers will agree with his interpretation that the conditions which led to the $100,000 limitation 11 years ago are not valid or pertinent today.

The administration also hopes to gain support by popularizing the idea that other states have rid themselves of their original debt limitations. Only 19 states besides Wisconsin now have a strict debt limit, and all of them, like Wisconsin, have found ways to circumvent the limit.

Nelson says that the "dummy" corporation device for issuing state bonds is undemocratic and wastefully expensive. He would have the bonding program strictly and constantly under the control of the legislature, he has said repeatedly.

Editor Misses Story

Nogales, Ariz.—A rural correspondent reported he had seen a man in downtown Nogales who looked just like Sir Laurence Olivier, famed movie director and actor. The local editor discarded the item. The next day it was announced that Sir Laurence had returned to Hollywood after spending the weekend at actor Stewart Granger's ranch near Nogales.

Democrats Delve Into History for Support of New State Debt Limit

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Madison—Democratic state administration researchers are delving into the history of the Wisconsin constitutional convention and interpreting the minds of the constitutional fathers in their efforts to gather support for a more liberal long-term debt limit.

What did the makers of the state constitution intend to achieve when in 1848 they wrote a basic law for the state which held the state's debt to a limit of $100,000?

The Democratic state leaders insist that they intended a result far different than most of their descendants, and especially the Republicans, have assumed.

The fact that they permitted any debt whatever shows that they were aware of the occasional need of a government to borrow money, it is asserted.

Not Unanimous

Moreover, the $100,000 limit must be measured in terms of those constitution framers living under more than a century ago, say the modern debt advocates.

Gov. Nelson's staff has calculated that the $100,000 permit issuance of state bonds of up to $34,000,000 in a single year, with a limit in total equal to 1 per cent of equalized property values of the state, or about $170,000,000 at present levels of assessment.

The money would be used for a long-range institution building program, according to the governor's plan. He says he has received building requests substantially exceeding the $170 million figure.

The outlook is for stern restriction against the property tax committee considering his proposal, although Nelson claims that the debt clause was never

Police Prepare For Parade Traffic Sunday

Parking Restrictions, Highway 55 Detours Post Major Problems

Kaukauna — The police department has started preparations for the Veterans of Foreign Wars parade Sunday.

Plans call for the parade to proceed north on Main avenue to Lawe street and north on Lawe to the picnic site. The route was changed at the request of the police department after Harold V. Engerson, chief, reported heavy traffic was anticipated on Highway 55 as persons return from vacations Sunday.

Rerouting the parade makes it possible to keep the majority of Highway 55 open to traffic. Police will mark a detour route for traffic during the parade.

Parking Restrictions Parking will be prohibited on both sides of Lawe street and on Main avenue to Sixteenth street from 12 noon until after the parade, stated Chief Engerson. There will be parking on Lawe street in the picnic area vicinity any time during the 3-day celebration.

Citizens are asked to leave their cars at home and walk to the parade. All available police officers have been ordered to report. Units in the parade will be lined up on side streets off Main avenue.

morning the loss of grain may not be too heavy.

Three trees were snapped at the Frank Haffner farm, less than a mile from Little River. Trees and wires were down in front of the Otto Rupno residence near the Little River school.

Damage estimated at several thousand dollars was inflicted at the Kaukauna home of L. C. Roome, 415 E. DuCharme street, when lightning struck a television antenna and followed the wire into the home.

The Roome family had left Kaukauna Wednesday morning on a vacation trip to Superior.

Drapes And Walls

Fire was confined to the living room, where the TV set and a radio-phonograph were destroyed. Drapes and walls were damaged by the blaze. Smoke and soot damage was heavy.

Heavy winds northeast of Freedom caused damage to barns at the Peter Farrell and Floyd VanVreede farms. Wisconsin Michigan Power company reported that nearly 1,500 customers were without electricity Wednesday night because of storm damage. The company lost a total of 27 poles and 13 pole-top transformers. A few poles burned after lightning struck transformers.

About 200 Appleton customers had no electricity for periods up to 1:30 a.m. today because of damaged transformers. Also affected were 150 customers in Bear Creek, 200 in Bonduel, 50 in Hortonville, 500 in the Weyauwega area, 25 in Seymour and 600 served by the Nichols substation. All service has been restored.

The company is providing Niagara with an emergency substation to replace the one that was knocked out by Wednesday's storm. The Niagara substation is served by Wisconsin Michigan Power company.

In Calumet county, whining winds ripped the roof off the Potter Lumber company owned by Alvin Kasper. The roof was lifted over an adjacent house and sent 300 feet into a field. No one was injured. Mrs. John Richter and Mr.

and Mrs. Normal Jandrey, occupants of the house next to the lumber company, said the sound of the storm was like that of a train.

Some wind damage was reported in the Leeman-Nichols area, where grain fields were flattened and trees snapped. Lightning struck the Clifford Nelson farm, but no damage was done.

Dead Listed

Dead in the rubber raft tragedy on Lake Michigan were Daniel S. Casper, 16, son of a physician in Bayside, a Milwaukee suburb, and Tony Phipps, 21, of Dallas, Texas. Rescued was their companion, Paul Polansky, 16, Mason City, Iowa.

The U.S. Weather bureau said the storms were part of a line squall that raced over the state ahead of a cold front. Madison was blasted by winds that reached 73 miles per hour.

Injured in the Niagara tornado were Mrs. Jeanette Cooper, 20, and her children, Denis, 1, and Steve, 2 months. They were hurt when the twister picked up their trailer, home and dumped it 100 feet away.

Without Power

The tornado downed trees, flattened a garage, tore the roof off a house, bounced an auto off a house and hit a tavern. The entire area was without power and telephone communication Wednesday night.

The Kimberly - Clark mill at Niagara was not damaged and there was no shutdown. Power and telephone lines were damaged, but an auxiliary power tie-in permitted the plant to keep operating.

At Harrisville, about 45 miles northeast of Madison, several homes were damaged and power lines carried away. Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Larkin said there were no injuries.

In Appleton, lightning struck the television antenna at the Fred Schultz home, 1336 E. Amelia street, about 7:15 p.m., the fire department reported.

The bolt traveled through wires to set the fuse box ablaze. Damage was confined to the antenna, wires, fuse box, a rug and several curtains.

Appleton Crews

The Appleton street department said only three trouble calls were received. In each case it was a small tree blown down. Four or five insurance, taxes and depreciation.

The fixed charge figure of $801 includes property damage and liability insurance ($25,000 and $50,000) and fire and theft coverage. Collision insurance is not included.

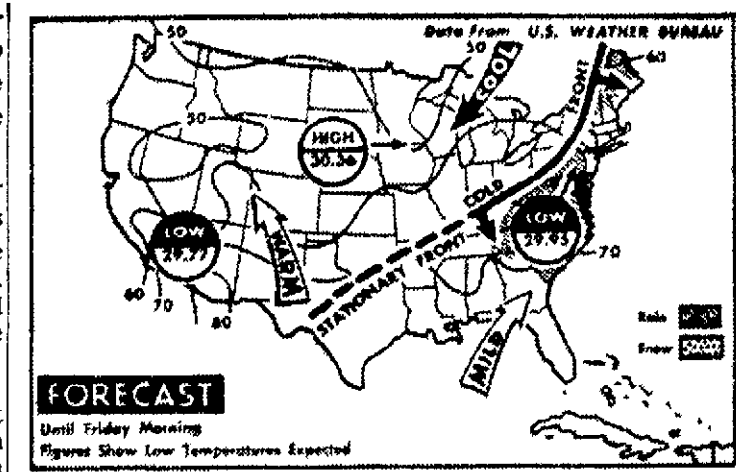

The mileage charge is for gas and oil, 2.61 cents, for tires, .59 cents, and for maintenance, .79 cents.

More Efficiency

For drivers who do 10,000 miles a year under average conditions, the total cost is approximately 12 cents a mile, compared with 10.8 cents a mile in 1957.

Those who use their cars twice as much pay an average of 8.1 cents a mile—a total, yearly charge of $1,628. Costs zoom to 20 cents a mile for those who drive 5,000 miles a year.

Outagamie county gasoline business volume in 1958 reached a new high of $7,721,000, compared to $7,048,000 in 1957.

It Will Be Warmer in the eastern and western portions of the country and cooler in the midwest. Scattered showers are expected in the east and southeast.

Public Interest

Legislators Received Flood of Petitions

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The 1959 legislature may be remembered by its members and its weary clerical staff for the volume of petitions from Wisconsin residents that descended upon it.

If the number of petitions, and the number of signatures inscribed upon them is a measure of popular interest, there is an extraordinary interest in the developments of this legislature.

Earlier this year petitions rained upon Madison when the legislature considered such matters as diversion of water from surface water, courses for irrigation purposes, release time in the schools for religious instruction, and the restoration of wild animal predator bounties.

Today the inspiration for bundles of petitions is a pending bill to increase the state tax on beer. Wherever there is a brewery, employees and others are evidently soliciting their friends for backing in the pressure upon the legislature.

Related to Language

The choice of descriptions in the beer tax controversy illustrate the relation of language to political purpose.

The governor's office which sponsored the measure as one in a series of revenue proposals has referred to its plan as asking for a "25 cents a barrel" increase in the beer excise.

The protesting petitioners refer to it as a proposal to increase the tax "25 per cent."

The state has traditionally taxed beer at the rate of one dollar a barrel.

(Most forecasts have it that the beer tax increase bill will die. It has already been rejected by the legislative finance committee.)

94 Fox Cities Men Study for Priesthood

A total of 94 young men from the Fox Cities are among more than 300 studying to become priests in the diocese of Green Bay, the diocesan paper reported today.

About 200 of the students are in minor seminary classes, placing them as far away as 12 years from ordination, and 101 are in major seminaries, or within six years of ordination.

Rain Stops Meeting on Helicopters

Representatives From 11 Counties Plan Future Conference

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Sent home somewhat premature by a severe weather warning, sheriffs and county board members from 11 area counties and Appleton city police will meet sometime in the future to discuss a daylong helicopter demonstration in Green Bay Wednesday.

The group of northeastern Wisconsin counties then will consider what they will do, jointly or individually, toward purchasing a helicopter proposed for rescue work and emergency operations. The sheriffs had met previously and favored a study, of which Wednesday's mass demonstration was a part.

More than 60 official representatives of the neighboring counties all with the problem of potential rescues in vast water or woodland areas, received familiarization rides, heard explanations of the functions and advantages of a helicopter and saw demonstrations of the maneuverability and versatility of the rotor-winged craft.

Appleton Representatives

Attending from Appleton were Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell, Police Chief Walter J. Hendricks and Traffic Sgt. John Gosch.

Attending from Outagamie county were Sheriff Robert F. Heinritz and Supvs. Patrick Heenan, Arthur Hoolihan, Max M. Kuehn, Russell DeLaHunt, Andrew Juntos, John Heidemann and Rudolph Spreeman.

The day was arranged by Brown County Sheriff Arley Skenandore, principal leader in the helicopter purchase movement, as a common demonstration time for two manufacturers, the Bell Aircraft corporation and the Hiller Aircraft corporation.

Provided Planes

The latter provided a high-horsepowered 2-passenger (plus pilot) craft, while Bell, which showed a 3-seater to Brown county officials last month, furnished its slightly larger "Ranger" model, the type used by the president.

Skenandore termed the demonstration day "successful" although it was cut short so the visiting lawmen could be in their home counties with the approach of the storm.

The planned question-and-answer period with the aircraft firm representatives and further discussion of the purchase proposal had to be cancelled. Also scrapped were plans for a late-afternoon mock water rescue trial.

Government Approves Michigan Station's Merger With WMBV-TV

The merged company, to be known as North Central Broadcasting company, will be headed by Frank J. Russell, president of the Marquette Mining Daily Journal, which presently owns Lake Superior Broadcasting company.

M and M Broadcasting Co.'s majority stock is owned by The Evening Telegram company, of Superior.

Backyard Buffets Skip the Charcoal

3 Outdoor Menus With Party Appeal

BY LILLIAN MACKESY
Post-Crescent Food Editor

Al fresco fare doesn't have to be barbecued . . . a backyard buffet can have a party glamor without a smidgen of charcoal in sight. Since there are folks who like to eat outdoors, but who shudder at the thought of charcoal cooking and even turn a cold shoulder on the traditional picnic foods . . . here are three menu solutions.

Even the avid picnicker and barbecue enthusiast would do well to latch on to these recipes that make wonderful party menus . . . they are fine for serving on patio and porch on those days when the look of a dish is important . . . when the weather or the occasion calls for a bit of something extra special.

A weight-watcher's version of the Hawaiian Fruit Salad uses low-calorie French-type dressing, but the regular dressing may be used if preferred. As a luncheon salad it is served with two slices of lean cold ham or roast beef and a generous scoop of cottage cheese.

Oriental Party
The American wiener becomes the highlight of an Oriental party menu that combines the best from Eastern and Western cultures. Oriental foods include Teriyaki, vegetables, meat pastries, Almond Rice, chilled fruit and tea. Your guests may have fun trying to eat this meal with chop sticks . . . but keep those knives and forks handy, just in case.

The third non-barbecue suggestion is the Garden Party Salad, molded in gelatin and decorated with dollops of mayonnaise to make it a truly lovely creation.

Here are the recipes:
Hawaiian Fruit Salad
6 medium melon balls
3 cup diced fresh pineapple
6 whole strawberries dressing to taste

In a separate bowl mix the fruit with one tablespoon of dressing until all the pieces are glossy. Arrange fruit decoratively in a scooped out pineapple or melon half. Serve with extra dressing to use as low-calorie French-type dressing, but the regular dressing may be used if preferred.

Teriyaki
16 hot dogs
1 clove garlic
3 tablespoons dry ginger
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 tablespoon instant onion or onion flakes
1 cup soy sauce
8 tablespoons dry white wine
Mash garlic in bowl; add ginger. Dissolve sugar in vinegar and add to bowl. Add onion. Add soy sauce and wine.

Score wieners so they will absorb the above marinade. Marinate about two hours, turning the wieners occasionally. Broil and slice into bite-size pieces.

Oriental Vegetables
1 teaspoon ground ginger
3 tablespoons dry white wine
2 teaspoons soy sauce
1 cup peanut oil
3 cups fresh uncooked peas
1 cup thinly sliced celery
1 cup canned bamboo shoots
1 cup green onions, sliced
1 cup fresh mushrooms, sliced
1 cup strips fresh green pepper
1 cup sliced pimiento

Fresh Strawberries, Melon balls and fresh pineapple cubes are mixed with low-calorie dressing and then served in a pineapple half. It's a feast for the eye as well as a weight watcher's treat for the palate. Then slices of ham provide protein nourishment.

1 cup chicken broth salt
pepper
Mix ginger, wine, soy sauce, salt and pepper; heat in oil. Add remaining ingredients. Cook for 10 minutes, stirring constantly.

Meat Pastries
biscuits made from mix
2 cups chopped hot dogs
1 cup chopped green onions onions
1 cup chopped mushrooms
1 teaspoon soy sauce
1 tablespoon dry white wine
pepper

Roll biscuit dough out about one-eighth inch thick. Cut into 2-inch squares. Combine other ingredients. Put teaspoonful on each square. Fold pastry around it and seal by pressing pastry together. Bake in a hot oven about 10 to 15 minutes.

Almond Rice

To serve, unmold largest pan on platter or plate; unmold medium pan on top of large layer; unmold small pan on top of medium layer. Be sure round molds are centered, one atop the other, for a symmetrical cake-like effect. Decorate with prepared mayonnaise, cream cheese or stiffly whipped cream put through a pastry tube. Garnish with radish roses, orange slices, pickles, fruit. Makes 12 to 15 servings.

Decorating Mayonnaise
Soften one teaspoon unflavored gelatin in two tablespoons water or fruit juice; dissolve over hot water. Stir into one cup mayonnaise and tint a soft green if desired with a drop or two of food coloring. Chill. Force through pastry tube as salad decoration.

Sober Colors Predicted for Paris Fashions

Paris — Fashion may reflect the gloomy world political picture with sober browns and blacks when Paris dressmakers begin displaying their new fall and winter collections July 27.

It is predicted that hemlines will go down, but only slightly.

Two new houses will make their debut. One of them is run by actress Brigitte Bardot's dressmaker, Louis Feraud, an ex-baker. He has already influenced France's younger set with his sweet and innocent—but somewhat sexy—styles for Bardot. ### Margaret, Aid Attend Showing In Same Dresses

London — Stylish Princess Margaret and her lady-in-waiting appeared in practically identical dresses Wednesday, at the opening of an exhibition of new fabric designs held at a fashion house.

"What a faux pas," said Iris Peake, the lady in waiting, "but it was a genuinely unfortunate coincidence."

Arriving in London after launching a ship in Belfast, Margaret hurried home to Clarence house, took a quick shower and slipped into a turquoise blue cocktail dress.

Downstairs waited Miss Peake in the almost identical dress. By the time the princess descended the stairs, it was too late for either to change.

"We always guard against this sort of thing so carefully," fussed the lady in waiting. "I think this is really the first time we've ever slipped up."

"I did not go to Northern Ireland with her royal highness. So until we were about Menasha, Donald Shepard, to leave Clarence house I Neenah, and G. R. Anderson, didn't know just what the Neenah princess would wear."

Your Problems

Teenager Causes Divorce, No Longer Loves Her Employer

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: When I was 15 I worked at a soda fountain after school. The man who owned the drug store was 30. He was married but not getting along with his wife.

It all started when he began to drive me home from work. Before I knew it we were dating. I felt guilty going with a married man so I told him I couldn't seem him anymore unless he was free. Within three months he got a divorce and gave his wife custody of the three kids.

We've been going together two and a half years and now he wants to get married. I'm in a real mess because I don't love him any more. I've fallen for a fellow my own age.

I feel like a rat because I messed up this first man's life and I know it. He knows nothing of my new love and I'm scared to tell him. Please help me make a sensible decision. I haven't slept in weeks. — NIGHT OWL

Dear Night Owl: You were a little fool to get mixed up with this man from the start. The important thing now is—where do you go from here?

Tell him you don't love him and stop seeing him at once. A marriage based on fear or pity is doomed from the start. If you're still working at the drug store quit.

True, you messed up this man's life, but you didn't do it single-handed. He was at least as much to blame as you. A man 30 who gets a girl 15 is begging for trouble. He could have been arrested for the delinquency of a minor.

Close the book on this sorry did chapter and make a decent life for yourself. You have plenty to live down, and you're lucky to have a second chance.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: This letter is being written by four gals in an advertising office. We are all over 20 and under 28.

A certain babe who works in this organization tries to be Miss Charming of 1959. Several groups of men pass through these offices and the public relations director introduces each of us gals by name. This one particular dame puts on a 32-tooth grin (like a Cheshire cat) and extends her hand with a great flourish as if she were Queen Elizabeth. It's sickening.

Isn't it poor manners for a woman to extend her hand to a man? Shouldn't she wait until the gentleman offers his? Please print this letter. She reads you daily. — THUMBS DOWN

Dear Thumbs: Your ignorance — as well as your claws, are showing. Miss Charming of 1959 is correct. You babes who are standing there waiting for the gentlemen to extend their hands first are the clods.

DEAR ANN: Is it possible to get tired of seeing your own husband—even if you love him very much?

We work together 12 hours a day and it seems we are never apart for one single minute. We have breakfast, lunch and dinner together, we go to work together and come home together. Neither of us has ever been any place without the other since we married five years ago.

I think I need a change of scenery but I'm afraid to say anything for fear he'll be hurt. What about it?—MRS. K.

DEAR MRS. K.: Speak up! This togetherness bit can be overdone and I'd say you've both had it. He probably feels the same but is afraid to mention it, too.

Have lunch with the girls. Go to a lecture, a play or a movie with a friend. Bring something to the relationship from the outside and encourage him to do the same. A constant Siamese hook-up can be dull dull dull!

To learn the difference between a marriage that "settles down" and one that "gets dull," send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "What To Expect From Marriage," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope. (Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Quarter Century Divides Home Styling in America, Russia

BY VIVIAN BROWN

New York — The three-room apartment displayed at the Soviet exhibition of Science, Technology and Culture at the Coliseum here is furnished in a manner reminiscent of rural America 25 years ago.

There is shower equipment imposed almost as an afterthought on a high bathtub.

How up to date is the Russian taste in interior decorating? Vivian Brown, Associated Press specialist in home furnishings, visited the Soviet exhibition in New York to find out. This is her report.

In the bedroom, a home-made coverlet of printed cotton gauze covers the bed and matching fabric is used on a lampshade.

The kitchen looks as if it had been built to suit the Russians are building apartments at such a fast pace. "Last year we constructed 55,000 units. This year we expect to build 80,000 units besides our suburban homes," says the smiling woman who collaborated with architect Vladimir Swirski in the designing and decorating of the rooms.

Modest Look

"Our furniture is not as sophisticated as American furnishings," she admits. "But it is much like some of the modest furniture displayed here."

Storage space predominates in the tiny rooms of the model apartment; furniture and cabinet designs are old-fashioned by our standards of sophisticated decoration.

Color schemes would not appeal to our decorators. Strawberry and gray vinyl squares on the bathroom floor establish the color mood for the area with pink tiles on the walls and a strawberry shower sheet.

Costs $350

Bedroom colors are pink, yellow and gray. The bed has a headboard with compartments on either side. A built-in vanity table is in the storage and closet unit along one wall. Two paintings, a chair and a desk-like piece complete the room which Miss Bayar estimated would cost 3,500 rubles ($350) to furnish, without either the machine-made or the hand-made oriental rugs used on the floor.

The boys' bedroom consists of two beds, two work tables, and a storage unit with laminated sliding doors. The furniture is varnished pine.

A large built-in storage unit dominates the wall of the living-dining area. It has a pass-through to the kitchen, above a storage area that serves as cupboard space and opens from the kitchen. A glass enclosed area higher up is used for storing decorative items and open shelves above that house books and notions.

New Idea

"This storage unit is a brand new idea in Russian living," Miss Bayar explains. "I decorated this room around this painting of birch trees by Gritziay," she points out, referring to the color scheme of black and beige, relieved by a chair upholstered in a red print fabric.

Walls are painted driftwood-beige, drapery fabric stretches across one window in a design to give the effect of birch trees. The fabric is cotton and synthetic, "very much like your nylon," Miss Bayar observes.

Walnut Furniture

The living-dining room, she says, would cost about 5,500 rubles ($550) to match in Russia exclusive of the very expensive large oriental rugs, "not typical of a floor covering in a modest Russian home."

The walnut furniture is on simple lines. It consists of a dining room table, four chairs, a red upholstered chair, a studio lounge "for one guest," and a coffee table with a handle across its top for easy moving. There are colorful china items such as tea pots, bowls and vases on display, including a glass ash-tray.

Miss Bayar, a member of the Academy of Architecture and Construction in Moscow, says she is a specialist in interior decoration. That and her knowledge of English got her the job of explaining the Russian apartment in America.

Miss Bayar herself lives in a one-room apartment with kitchenette and bath in a large apartment house where her three sisters and brother also live in separate apartments.

"Our furniture is much like some of the modest furniture displayed in America," Miss Bayar says.

Decorating Notes Embossed on Leather

It's the unexpected touch of decoration that so often distinguishes furnishings for fall '59. And leather has its own elegantly simple way of providing it, with a single embossed design on a leather-covered piece of furniture.

Here the back of a love seat and a chair and the top of an ottoman show designs created by John Van Koert, who also adapts his new patterns to colorful place mats of leather.

The accent designs appear on this and other new furniture and the new place mats in darker shades of the leather colors or in gold or silver. The Persian trees are gold on the beige glove-like leather of the love seat, and either metallic or deep color can be had for the Old China motif which is adapted from antique Chinese embroidery. The mats are backed with felt and have modern soft leather's advanced heat and stain resistance and ability to stay perfectly fresh with soap and water sponging.

The first thing a professional decorator does to plan a room is to make a floor plan—and so can you with Elizabeth Hillyer's "Furniture Arrangement kit." Included is full explanation of how easy it is and the furniture cut-outs you need—126 of them—plus pointers on good arrangement. Start this valuable kit toward your mailbox today. ## Our Children

Youngsters Need to be Alone for Inner Growth

BY ANGELO PATRI

"Why can't they let me alone?" Ever hear this complaint from an adolescent boy or girl; one whose parents were trying their level best to develop and enrich their child's mind? Many times we hear it and many more times we feel it as the child withdraws mentally and physically if he can.

All children have times in their days when they want and need to be let alone, to be alone. The adolescent boy and girl feel this need acutely. It seems to them that everybody is picking on them, trying to make them into something other than what they are; trying to enter into their thinking, trying always trying to improve them.

Not that they do not need this attention. (They do.) But at the same time, they need relief from its pressures. They need to have time and freedom to think over what is happening to them, that has been said and done to them, and to find some solid ideas on which they can stand to take a good look at the ones being pressed upon them. This they are often denied.

Pressure from Elders

A boy, about 13 or 14, sits quietly in a corner and someone says, "You here? Why aren't you out playing? Haven't you anything to do? Don't you feel good?" If the boy growls, "I'm all right. Just leave me alone," he is chided.

for being rude and told to get up and go do something instead of moping there.

The boys and girls must have a time and a place in which to be alone. They need this so as to become acquainted with themselves and with those about them.

They need it because they are tired of the pressure their elders are putting on them. You think that you are not pressing them? But you are. You are thinking they should know better, that they should do better, that they are old enough now, that they should be more conscious of the needs of home, that they should just be better and the children feel the weight of those feelings and the words that often accompany them.

Guests Should Stay At Dinner

BY EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please settle a point of table manners that has been causing some argument in our house. We have no one waiting on table and all the serving dishes, including the bread tray, are put on the table and passed around. My sister takes a slice of bread from the tray, breaks it in half and puts the other half back. (She is watching her calories.) I have told her time and again that it is very bad table manners to put the bread back for others to eat after she has touched it. She sees nothing wrong in this and says it would be wasteful to leave it on her plate to be thrown away. Will you please give your opinion of this?
Answer: You are right. It is not good manners to put the piece of bread she has handled back on the tray.
Name Preference
Dear Mrs. Post: Is it always necessary for the best man to propose the toast to the bride and groom at the reception? I'm terrible at such things and am the best man; one of the ushers is a "natural at making pretty speeches" and yet he insists he can't do it as it's supposed to be my privilege—or duty—which ever way you look at it.
Answer: Tell him that you really want him to propose the toast and that as you don't mind having your place usurped, there is nobody else who can possibly object.

STAR DASH
Mrs. Post offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning etiquette. If you would like to have her leaflet E-29, entitled, "Buffet Dinners, Lunches, and Suppers," send 10 cents in coin to Dept. E.P., care of this newspaper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N.Y. Opening lead:
Jack of spades.
Some poor players never get a bid — others are better off if they never do. North is such a player. Careful bidding might have disclosed that there was an ace missing on this hand but that type of bidding was hardly spectacular enough for our North friend.

In any case, seven no trump doubled became the final contract. East's double called for an unusual lead and that could only be a club or a heart but West wasn't up to the situation. The jack of spades was won in dummy with the queen and the king of spades was then cashed. The ace and king of diamonds were played, followed by a small club which South won with the king in his hand.

Declarer now took his two good diamonds and his ace of spades, discarding dummy's three hearts on these cards. The queen of clubs was then played and overtaken in dummy with the ace. When both defenders followed, it was all over and the grand slam came limping home.

West might have guessed a heart lead but, strangely enough, had West led a club the contract still would have been defeated. Declarer has 13 tricks with a club lead but he cannot take them because a blockup occurs. Play it yourself and see what I mean.

Match Pattern, Material In Summer Sewing Plans

If you're doing some last minute summer sewing or plan to teach your daughter to sew during vacation make the job as easy as possible. Putting the right pattern with the material is your most important sewing step, according to Helen Pearson, clothing specialist at the University of Wisconsin.

Choose soft, lightweight materials if you want gathers. Then they'll hang freely into smooth gathers and will not be bulky. If you're planning a tailored dress with tabs, flat pockets, or a crisp collar use a firmly woven material that will lie flat.

Some fabrics don't lend themselves to details like pointed collars, underarm gussets, or places that need closely clipped corners. Loosely woven fabrics or those that ravel freely will not give good results.

If a pattern calls for interfacing in buttonhole areas, collars, cuffs, yokes, and even the whole skirt or dress, be sure that you can handle the sewing. Also choose an interfacing material that is washable and is lighter weight than your dress material.

Some materials have special finishes or are made of the synthetics that don't shrink. These may be difficult to use with a pattern that calls for set-in sleeves. So try to use a raglan sleeve, a cap sleeve with or without a gusset.

Be careful about choosing a complicated stripe or plaid. Small regular stripes aren't too difficult but matching is important. Designs, too, can be a problem if they aren't printed on the straight of the goods. Check the end of the fabric where it's been torn to see how the design is placed.

Shirtdresses with a skirt of unpressed pleats, sleeveless sheath dresses with short boxy jackets or boleros, and sunback styles are good choices for the less experienced seamstress.

Dreams Won't Do It

For figure-watchers, summer is a sensitive season. Hot weather induces laziness, and lazy seldom exercise, and lack of exercise causes fleshy accumulations.

Consequently, if you wish to preserve or improve the figure you've got, you cannot succumb to inactivity. You must exercise daily. Moreover, a workout offers other than figure benefits. It keeps you alert, graceful and by dissipating internal heat, cooler.

To reap all results, perform these routines every day:

Stretch out, back down, on floor with arms extended close to sides. Bend knees until soles rest on floor. Pull in abdomen and raise hips two inches from floor, so body weight rests entirely on shoulders. Now gently swing hips from side to side for ten counts. Then lower hips, rest and repeat. Alternating swings and rests, perform six times.

On back, legs out and together on floor, slide right hip upward toward ribs, pull back to starting position and slide left hip upward. Without stopping, repeat 30 times — very quickly.

The first exercise will trim your middle, the second your hips. But not if you just dream about doing them!

To solve that riddle of extra

Readying Estate Necessary Task

BY SYLVIA PORTER

My friend, Dorcas Campbell, vice president of New York's East River Savings bank, came to lunch in Wall street the other day with a booklet entitled "Who Shall They Turn?" People like you who are thought to be efficient are just the ones who all too frequently fail to make plans . . . in case a brick falls on them," said he. "A birthday is a better time than New Year's day for looking back and looking ahead. Here is a guide and a record booklet for you to study and fill out now."

With understandable reluctance, I have approached the job. Today, though, I admit I have learned a lot from the guide and hopefully, I can pass on some of the vital hints to you.

Preparing a Will
Consider first preparing a will. Of course you are aware that no matter what the size of your estate, you should have a will. Yet surprisingly few people realize what unnecessary troubles they create if they leave their estate to the courts. A survivor may find it difficult to provide for the children while waiting for court permission to use estate funds. Rigid state laws govern distribution of assets of an estate not covered by a will and specify who shall get what. Should there be any disputes, the cost for settling them must come out of the estate.

Advice: Have a lawyer immediately draw up your will — to prevent family arguments, endless court actions, freezing of funds and to save substantial amounts on taxes. The details are few, the cost minor. And at least once a year review your will to see if it should be revised to reflect births, deaths and marriages. Or consider naming an executor of your estate. The usual inclination is to name a member of your family or a close friend, but in view of the importance of an informed, competent executor, this may be unwise. The executor has a tough job. He must offer your will for probate in court, notify all persons interested in the estate, take possession of all property and prepare a detailed inventory of it, file an appraisal in court, attend meetings of appraisers and file all income tax returns. If you name an individual, it's possible he will be absent or incapacitated in some way when expected to assume duties in your behalf. If you name an inexperienced individual, he may have to engage professional aid, and the shortsightedness of keeping the fee in the family may backfire.

Advice: The commission for executing an estate is the same and fixed by law, whether done by a bank or an individual, and since the duties are complicated, a wiser move may be to name a bank as executor. Certainly look into this alternative.

Social Security
Or consider social security. It is astounding how few know that social security not only provides old age benefits, but also is a life insurance policy that under certain conditions protects widows, children and dependents through a survivor pension program. It also provides a lump-sum payment to the person who pays the burial expenses. Many families lose thousands of dollars because they don't understand the law and the benefits available.

Advice: Write to your local Social Security office now for a copy of the booklet, "Your Social Security" and learn your benefits. Write to the Social Security administration in Baltimore, Md., for a statement of your social security payments. This service is free.

In addition to settling such basic questions as the above, you should make a simple record of what you have and where you have it. (Copyright, 1959)

To Your Good Health

Dr. Molner Discusses Health Aspects of Tubal Operation

By Joseph G. Molner, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My doctor has suggested that since I have had four children and have endangered my own life and the baby's each time, that I should have a tubal ligation. I wish you would tell me how this reacts on the system afterward and would there be painful menstruation?"

"Also is there no way in the future that, if my health should become better, they could put a valve on the tubes as is done in heart surgery? Does this absolutely mean no more children ever?"

I have been astonished at the number of inquiries I have received on this subject. Several times I've made brief comments in answer, but the questions keep coming in, so let's discuss it more fully. It seems evident that ligation (or tying of the tubes just isn't thoroughly understood.

The procedure is relatively simple, but the results are quite positive. In a woman the Fallopian tubes are tied, so that nothing can pass through—meaning, of course, than an ovum, or egg, cannot pass through. Sometimes a section of the tube itself is removed to make absolutely certain of this.

A similar operation, tying (or ligating) the tube which carries the male sperm, can be done to a man. Either way, the result is the same: The man (or woman) cannot have any more children.

Effect on health? None.

Effect on menstruation? None.

Effect on the mind, simply knowing that you cannot have any more children? That depends on the person involved. Depending on circumstances, it may make you feel safer, or it may bother you because later you change your mind, but then it is too late. Or there may be no emotional aftermath at all. This you must decide for yourself, on the basis of your own conscience and your own circumstances.

I speak, of course, from the health aspect only. Some churches prohibit such action. That aspect is up to you and your faith.

North Koreans, Japanese Sign Repatriation Pact

Geneva — The Japanese and North Korean Red Cross signed a provisional agreement two weeks ago on repatriation of Koreans, the International Red Cross committee said Wednesday. Red Cross officials disclosed for the first time that the document had been submitted to them for their approval with the provision that it would be formally signed if okayed. There are about 600,000 Koreans in Japan. Most of them were brought there before and during World war II as unskilled laborers. Many are now destitute. The communists offered them jobs in North Korea. Estimates of the number who want to return range from 43,000 to 117,000. The Republic of South Korea, which claims to be the only legal government of all Korea, bitterly protested the repatriation scheme. President Syngman Rhee's government charged the Koreans were being lured into communist slavery and warned Japan that it would take "every means, including force," to prevent their delivery to the north.

Youth Receives Third Bad Driving Conviction in Year

Richard F. Wolfinger, 18, Dundas, has been fined $100 and his driver's license was revoked for six months on his third conviction this year in municipal court for reckless driving. Wolfinger was arrested about 1:30 a. m. Sunday by County Patrolman Calvin Spice after a high speed chase through Kaukauna on Crooks avenue and Highway 55 outside the city. Spice said Wolfinger at one point on Crooks (a 25-mile an hour zone) came upon a car at about 65 miles an hour, could not turn fast enough to pass on the left and passed the car on the right. Leaving Kaukauna, Wolfinger's car nearly went out of control in a construction area when it hit a graveled stretch at more than 60 miles an hour, Spice said. Wolfinger's record shows convictions for speeding, Sept. 8, 1957; driving without lights, Aug. 23, 1958, and reckless driving, Feb. 6 and June 28 of this year. The convictions this year have added 18 points to his driving record.

Att'n Mr. Glenn Arthur, Advertising Director

Dear Mr. Arthur:

Recently we decided to evaluate our advertising methods with your staff heads. From this discussion of advertising procedure we realized that our concept and approach in merchandising could be improved.

We found the benefits of pre-planned advertising quite promising...also the depth of local market research and merchandising skill that your newspaper offers small space advertisers.

On June 15th our first, 2-color full page advertisement was published, featuring our first BIG specials.

We were overwhelmed by results!

We experienced a heavy increase in customer traffic, along with an upward trend in store sales in general. We sold more than 10 times the volume of products as we would have normally sold. Store traffic increased about 20%, and sales have continued to increase in general in all our stores.

We find that skill is important in creating productive advertising. Your Copy Service Manager, Will Olson, contributes a great deal of merchandising knowledge from which we profit.

We appreciate the fine cooperation your staff is giving us.

Sincerely yours,

Weyauwega — The board of education has taken an option to purchase for $62,500 the Cohen property on Ann street.

Part of the property will be offered to the elementary school district as a site for a proposed new grade school building. Plans call for the remainder of the land to be used as an athletic field.

Melvin Utecht's bid of $745 was acceptable for painting two corridors, two lavatories and one classroom.

The board also approved the sale of an old school bus which was no longer being used by the school.

The noise came from the long line of policemen, lower right, as they draw a "bead" on their targets.

Neenah Lists 5,420 School-Age Children

Census Shows Increase of 256 In 4 to 19 Group Over Last Year

Neenah — An increase of 13 and 17 year age groups. 256 students, the equivalent of Boys lead in the other age about eight classrooms or an average of 20 more students at each grade level will be entering the school program, Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennes indicated in his review of the school census figures.

There are more than 450 students entering the school program and only 194 leaving 10 years — he pointed out. This year's total of 5,420 eligible children, 14 years — 290, 15 years — 249, in the 4 through 19 year age bracket is an increase of 256, or 91 per cent, over the 2,828 registered in the 1945 census.

Taking the entire child population from birth through 19 years shows: First ward — 355 boys and 367 girls years of age, there are 7,158 Second ward — 364 boys and recorded in the census. This 359 girls. Third ward — 267 is an increase of 329 over last year's 267 boys and 290 girls. Fourth ward — 358 boys and 353 girls. Fifth ward — 386 boys and 351 girls. Girls are predominant in the years/boys and 356 girls. Seventh from birth through three-ward — 359 boys and 386 girls years of age and also in the Eighth ward — 460 boys and

Menasha Places 4th In 14 Cities for Traffic Safety

National Council Report Gives Recommendations for Program

Menasha — This city placing fourth of 14 Wisconsin cities surveyed in the 10,000-50,000 population range in traffic safety activities during 1958, the National Safety Council (NSC) revealed Wednesday.

Gordon May, Madison, of the Motor Vehicle department's safety division and a representative of the safety council, told city and civic officials how the Menasha survey was made and went through recommendations for improvements.

Estimate $200,000 Cost

In some categories, Menasha's 1958 showing was below 1957 in percentage points. However, the report explained, no valid comparison can be made, since between the years changes were made in methods of reporting and scoring.

Valid, however, is the 88 score for 1958 traffic engineering, compared to 76 in 1957.

May and the report said the single 1958 fatal and 57 non-fatal injury traffic accidents probably had cost citizens $200,000 — in lost work time, medical bills, car and other property damage and other expenses directly connected to the mishaps.

Overall score of the city's "inventory of traffic safety activities" was 51 per cent last year, compared to 65 per cent in 1957. This score difference, the report said, "was due to a change in point distribution for accident records in the two years... but does not reflect change in actual performance."

The report treats all phases of the Menasha program, such as accident, death and injury records; traffic engineering; traffic ordinances; police traffic supervision; traffic courts; school and public safety education; and organization for traffic safety improvement.

Categories, Findings

Categories, findings and recommendations include:

Accident records — In 1958, accident records met 51 per cent of recommended performance, compared to 65 per cent in 1957. A standard type accident report form and attendance at a traffic school by the records clerk were recommended. (Attendance at the Northwestern university traffic institute costs about $300.)

Traffic engineering — Installation of pedestrian crossing signs and banning of left turns at unspecified locations were recommended.

Police traffic supervision — Attendance at traffic school by supervisory personnel was recommended. Subjects studied:

4 Policemen Receive New Assignments

Commission OKs New Patrolman, Ronald Wittman

Menasha — Three Menasha policemen were promoted to squad car driver and one to motorcycle rider positions.

Patrolman Gregory Resch, formerly driver of Squad 4, was transferred to Squad 3. The former is a three-shift operator and the latter, two shifts.

Patrolmen John Lux and David Kolasinski were named drivers of Squad 4.

Patrolman William Ciske was named motorcycle rider to replace Robert Porath, promoted to sergeant.

All promotions and transfers, approved by the police and fire commission Monday and Wednesday nights, became effective today.

The commission also approved hiring Ronald Wittman, 27, 941 1/2 Plank road, as patrolman, to fill a vacancy caused by the retirement of Sgt. George Jedwabny, effective Aug. 14.

One man took a test for patrolman. If his examination is approved by the commission he will be placed on the police department eligible list.

Neenah Issues 96th Home Permit

Neenah — New homes authorized this year now lead last year's total for this time by seven with the issuance by Building Inspector Carlton F. Williams of the 96th new home permit of the year Wednesday.

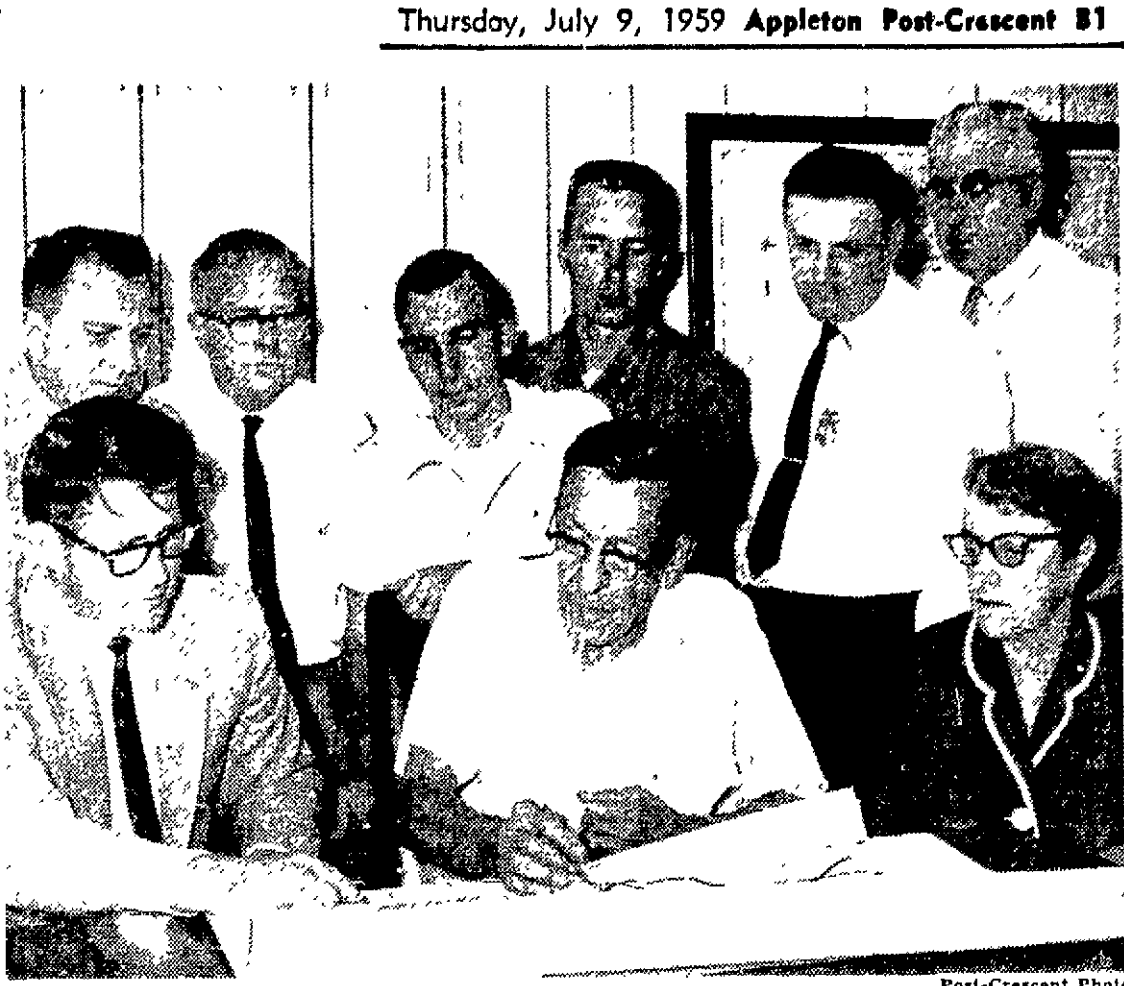

The permit was issued to Gilbert Nielsen for a $19,000 home, 40 by 62 feet, and a 20 by 26 foot attached garage to be built on Hickory lane.

Remodeling permits issued were to Russell Mueller, 942 W. Caroline street, to finish off the second floor of his house at a cost of $1,200 and to Raymon Tuchscherer, 717 S. Commercial street, to extend his porch and enclose it at a cost of $700.

Arthur Kessler received a permit for wrecking of a home on Congress street.

396 girls, Ninth ward — 411 boys and 435 girls. Tenth ward — 268 boys and 237 girls.

Census reports for 1951 showed a total of 4,017 in the birth to 19 year group. This increased by 396 the next year and had its biggest jump in 1956 when it increased by 515 children.

Menasha Received Its 1958 Inventory of traffic safety activities from the National Safety council Wednesday. Gordon May, seated, left, of the Wisconsin motor vehicle department's safety division, explained the report to Mayor R. G. Du Charme, center, and Mrs. John Teeple, chairman of the League of Women Voters' local agenda committee. Standing, from left, are Walter Anderson, traffic representative of the Twin City Safety council; Bob Wood, Neenah, a member of the state safety council traffic division; W. W. Edwards, chairman of the city government's safety committee; and patrolman William Ciske, Lt. Richard J. Gavinski and Chief Peter P. Clark, all of the Menasha police department.

'Maralog' Looks Back at 50 Years of Progress

Menasha — Marathon division of American Can company took a look back over 50 years of operation in its current issue of "Maralog," company publication, telling word and picture of the growth of the firm from one plant at Rothschild in 1909 to a 20-plant operation today.

Besides the plants scattered throughout the country are a railroad serving its Naheola, Ala., mill and a sawmill company which produces lumber as well as wood for the Alabama operations.

This growth included the acquisition in 1927 of the Menasha Printing and Carton company and in 1953 of Northern Paper Mills of Green Bay. Readers are given a look at product lines of a by-gone day as well as the varied line of products now issuing from the division's plants.

One indication of the plans for the future of Marathon is the announcement of the installation of a third paper machine by early 1961 at its Naheola, Ala., plant where operations only recently got underway.

French Woman, Friction Fighter for Problems of Staff at United Nations

United Nations, N.Y. — Put people from three score nations together in one building and — just like their governments — there's bound to be some friction.

About 4,000 people work in the UN's skyscraper headquarters overlooking New York's East river, and the world organization has provided a special kind of help for them. It comes from a mild-mannered, sensitive woman in her 40s, Mrs. Dora Kowarski, a Polish-born French citizen officially known as the UN staff counselor.

The usual run of personal difficulties flow into Mrs. Kowarski's office just off the staff lounge — people with marital and money problems.

She also has to help foreign staff members who come to New York and are sometimes confounded and confused by its hustling and bustling people — from rude taxi drivers to nasty landlords. And then there are the people who are just plain lonely. All these make up the majority of her 250 to 300 new cases a year.

Office Problems Included
But about 10 per cent of her new cases are people with office troubles of a sort rarely found in more conventional offices.

"My most important professional quality is that I try to be a good listener," says Mrs. Kowarski, a graduate psychologist who speaks English, French, Polish, Russian and German.

For example, there was the French stenographer who came close to tears because her British boss told her: "I'm in the office each morning at 9, when you are just jumping out of bed."

The girl was usually punctual, and as Mrs. Kowarski wryly observes: "He was just having his little British joke."

Like most French girls at the UN, this one tended to be over-sensitive. Mrs. Kowarski quietly went to work on the Britisher's sense of humor, as well known as Gallic sensitivity, at the regular UN supervisor conferences.

Chronic Grippers, Too
Similar problems arise with Chinese, who tend to be over-careful in explaining things to their subordinates, or with men who come from lands where women are regarded as inferiors. They brusquely toss a typing job to their secretaries without so much as a please or thank you.

Then there are the chronic grippers. Their complaining often reveals some kind of nervousness about their foreign colleagues.

Mrs. Kowarski is just as concerned about people who are afraid to gripe because they come from dictatorships — either the communist variety or the tough strongman type.

Demotion for Cause
One such woman got up the courage to venture into Mrs. Kowarski's office — but not without several backward glances over her shoulder.

She had been downgraded in her job and would not go to her chief and find out why. She was afraid he had a hidden microphone in his office that would pick up her conversation, and it would be reported to her government and she would be yanked back home.

Following her standard practice of strict secrecy and gentle discretion, Mrs. Kowarski discovered the woman at an executive board meeting of Hawley-Dieckhoff American Legion auxiliary at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

Legion Board

ied should include traffic administration and command training. Also recommended were increases in the number of hazardous driving convictions (drunk or reckless driving) and 40 hours of training for all personnel each two years in traffic supervision. Chemical tests should be required for each drunk driving suspect and each policeman should be detailed to more traffic work, the report also said.

Commends Justice
Traffic court — The report commends Police Justice Arthur J. Ales for the completeness of his 1958 inventory. The safety council recommends his court be designated a court of record and should open and close with ceremony to ensure decorum. The justice should require public audits of traffic tickets, which should be of the quadruplicate, non-fixable type to prevent possible abuses and increase public confidence in the traffic court system, the council advises. The justice should attend traffic court schools or conferences, the report recommends.

4-H Girls Learn Grooming, Result Of Planned Habits

Winneconne — Beauty and good grooming are planned habits, not gifts, a college dietician and Oshkosh beautician told 4-H girls, their mothers and leaders at a good grooming school Wednesday afternoon at Winneconne Central school.

Mrs. Myrtle Webb, dietician at one of the Lawrence college dormitories and former Green county home agent, discussed good health habits, graceful posture, cleanliness, deodorants, skin care and foundation garments.

Mrs. Jane Kuttig, owner of an Oshkosh beauty salon, talked on hair styles and care. About 250 4-H girls attended the school which will help them prepare for their dress revue July 30 and style show Aug. 3. Mrs. Jeanette Thomas, assistant Winnebago county home agent, said.

"Good grooming stretches from the top of well brushed hair to the tip of polished toes," Mrs. Webb declared. "What you do during your teenage years will determine how you will look many years from now. Concentrate on correcting your faults and accenting your good points."

Healthful Foods

"Paint your face from the inside by eating the correct foods," she said. "Whatever foods help your health, will help your skin." She advised the girls to avoid carbonated beverages, greasy foods, chocolates and whipped cream if they want a clear, healthy skin.

"Teenagers need more calories than children, because they're growing and developing," she said. "If you want to lose weight, you must eat less food than your body needs so the excess fat is burned. Desserts are not needed for they are not a basic requirement for your body."

"It's better to get a small amount of deodorant, because after a certain length of time it loses its strength and becomes stale," she explained. "Do not plan to use one deodorant or anti-perspirant, (which also deodorizes), all the time. Change often, try using a paste, then liquid or cream."

"Your hands are always on display, when you write, sew, eat, type or dance, so learn to use them gracefully," Mrs.

List Hints For Cooks

Oshkosh — Food preservation is a big job, so don't make it any bigger than it needs to be, says Miss Lois Klusmeyer, county home agent.

When your garden produces more food than your family will use in a year, it is foolish to try to preserve it all, just to avoid waste. Instead, can or freeze as much as you will use and sell or give away the surplus.

When you are preserving food, it is a good idea to freeze the top quality fruits and vegetables and to can those that are below top grade.

The next time you make party rolls, try butterhorns or parker-house rolls filled with grated cheese and chopped parsley. They are especially good served with barbecued ribs.

An easy way to clean the oven is to place a cloth dampened with ammonia in a closed warm oven for a few hours. This will loosen food particles and make scorched surfaces easy to clean.

Hutchinson Replaces Smith in Cincy's Managerial Hot Seat

Fred 4th Pilot For Redlegs In Last Year

Cincinnati — Burly Fred Hutchinson takes over tonight in one of baseball's managerial hot seats — manager of the Cincinnati Reds.

Cincinnati General Manager Gabe Paul announced Wednesday that Mayo Smith had been fired after directing the team through only 80 league games and that Hutchinson had been named to replace him.

Hutchinson, former pilot of the Detroit Tigers and the St. Louis Cardinals, has been managing Seattle of the Pacific Coast league, a Cincinnati farm club affiliate.

In coming here, Hutchinson will be the tenth manager of the Reds since 1947. He will be the fourth in less than a year although one of them—Jimmy Dykes — had only an "interim" tenure last year after "Birdie" Tebbetts quit.

Mired in 7th

"Hutch" will be taking over a club mired in seventh place, 10 1/2 games out of first. It is a club admittedly weak in pitching. Smith singled out that phase Wednesday night as a major reason for the team's plight.

Paul said Hutchinson would be signed to a contract running through the 1960 season when he arrived here today from Seattle. The terms were not disclosed.

The Reds open a series with San Francisco tonight.

Paul's terse announcement of the managerial change said Smith had been his "personal" choice when he was hired.

"I deeply regret that things have worked out as they have," Paul said.

Pitched for Tigers

He added that Smith had been offered a job in the Cincinnati organization but Smith asserted he had not yet decided whether to accept it although he declared "I want to stay in baseball."

"It's just one of those things," he declared of his firing. "That's baseball."

Hutchinson spent his playing days as a pitcher with Detroit. He then managed the Tigers from July 5, 1952 through 1954. After that he

Knafelc Says There'll Be No 'Variations' in Packers' 1959 Training

Kiwanis Club Told That Bays Have Good Personnel at All Positions

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

"We'll be a very conforming type of ball club," said Green Bay's Gary Knafelc here Wednesday in a comment on the 1959 Packers training routine that lies just ahead.

In replying to an Appleton Kiwanian's question on whether pro football has training variations such as Ingemar Johansson displays in boxing, Knafelc asserted "we had too much of that kind of variation in training last year."

Impressed by Lombardi

The man both Knafelc and his partner-in-public relations, Bob Skoronski, named as being responsible for a new Packer approach is General Manager - Head Coach Vince Lombardi. During their Kiwanis club appearance in the Conway hotel, both players were unflinching in their praise of Lombardi — and it appeared to be more than a mere bid for boss-approval.

"Lombardi is the kind who impresses you the moment he walks into a room," said Knafelc, "and that feeling has carried over to the players who are already in Green Bay."

Knafelc added that this year's candidates will put out or they won't be around.

Knees Are Sound

Skoronski, who is returning to the Packers after a 2-year stint in the Air Force, said Lombardi is "the type any one would like for a boss."

The new head coach is a "man of very few words" and Three new players have been added to the roster of the Appleton Valley Fair Baseball team which meets in Clintonville at 8 p.m. tonight at Goodland field. The newcomers include Don Bodway, first baseman; Merlin Merholtz, catcher; and Jim Meyer, pitcher.

"Bud" Koehnke has been named field manager of the team by former Field - Business Manager Gene Kloes. Kloes will now devote all of his time to business duties. Koehnke, who played pro ball for several seasons, will make his debut as field manager in tonight's exhibition game.

Dave Trinrud and Meyer will probably pitch tonight with Merholtz and Bill McGinnis sharing the catching.

Alston Uses McDevitt Tonight

Milwaukee — The Braves tonight open a short home stand—five games that will bring to town the top challengers for Milwaukee's first-place position in the National league.

The third-place Los Angeles Dodgers, a half-game back, will be the first to call in a 3-game series. The second-place San Francisco Giants, three percentage points behind the Braves, will get their chance Sunday and Monday.

The Braves will open the critical series with the Dodgers tonight with Joey Jay, the youthful right-hander who is 3-5 for the season. Lefty Danny McDevitt, 8-6, was the choice of Dodger Manager Walt Alston.

Big Lift

The start will be the first for Jay since June 24 when he tossed a 7-inning shutout. A victory in his start tonight would give the club a big lift and mean the Dodgers would have to win the next two games to wrest the lead away from the Braves without any help from San Francisco.

Carl Willey, a shutout winner last Sunday at Philadelphia, is available for Friday night, and, should Manager Fred Haney wish to go the Dodger series with right-handers, Lew Burdette will be ready Saturday.

Warren Spahn and Juan Pizarro also are rested and either could be called upon to start.

All of the club has been resting since Sunday except Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron, Del Crandall and Burdette.

Mrs. Hagge Wins Hoosier Tourney By Four Strokes

Fort Wayne, Ind. — Marlene Bauer Hagge of Delray Beach, Fla., clipped a stroke from men's par to win the $4,000 Hoosier Celebrities golf tournament by four strokes Wednesday.

Marlene posted 34-36-70 at the Fort Wayne Country club to go with her par 71 in the first round. Her 141 total was worth $700.

Patty Berg of West Chicago, Ill., who matched Marlene's 71 Tuesday, slipped to 74 and tied Bonnie Randolph of Columbus, Ohio, for second place at 145.

Jose Becerra of Mexico Waves the world bantamweight championship belt as he is carried through a swarm of admirers in Los Angeles Wednesday night after he knocked out Alphonse Halimi of France to win the title. The end for Halimi came in the eighth round.

NOTES and NOTIONS

Will last week's Three-I league "reprieve" do the Fox Cities Foxes any permanent good? Doomed to an almost certain deep second division finish on a full season's basis, the Foxes got a second chance when the league voted grudgingly to split the '59 campaign. Make no mistake—it constitutes a great break for the Foxes (as well as for Sioux City and Burlington).

What will the Foxes do about it? The remaining 59 games will tell the story—a mighty important story insofar as the Foxes and their affiliation with Washington is concerned. In 1 1/2 seasons now, we've had three rounds of 3-I league play. And, in each of the three cases, the Senators' locally-based farm club finished next-to-last (or in a tie for next-to-last).

There has been a good deal of optimism expressed about the 1959 Foxes. Most fans, I believe, will agree that on paper the Foxes are a better team than last year's — particularly since the additions of the last month. Yet, it's sad but true that the Jack McKeon-managed Foxes finished the first round with a lesser record than that of the '58 edition. Last year's Foxes played 441 ball (26-33) for the first half, while this year's team played 400 baseball (26-39). The factors that have hurt the Foxes most—and will have to be corrected during the second round—are failure to win at home, failure to win the close ones and damaging misplays or fuzzy base running at crucial spots.

Foxes Have Won Only 12 of 34 Home Tilts

While the Foxes had a pretty respectable 14-17 record on the road in the first round, they won only 12 of 34 at home. If they had won just half of their 1-run decisions, they could have finished near the .500 mark. I believe the Foxes can do a lot better in the second round. For one thing, they now have the hitting to be rough against anybody. They can stack the lineup with seven dangerous (.300 or near .300) hitters at any one time. And, they have four or five pitchers who have demonstrated an ability to start, finish—and win. The Foxes failed to gain an edge over any rival in the first round, but they tied Lincoln (6-6) and Green Bay (5-5). Their biggest

12 Fox Cities Area Golfers Qualify for NEW Title Flight

'Chuck' Steeno Takes Medalist Honors With 2-Over-Par 74

Manitowoc — Twelve Fox Cities area golfers qualified set for Saturday.

"Chuck" Steeno, Green Bay Oneida and University of Wisconsin star, won the medal Wednesday with a 2-over-par 74. Only 15 golfers broke 80 over the long Branch River club course, which was made even tougher by a high wind.

Sheboygan's Jim Lohr, the defending champion, was exempt from qualifying.

Garvey Shoots 78

Butte des Morts' Dick Garvey, with a 78, was the low Fox Cities area qualifier. He was to meet Neenah Ridge-way's Harley Loker, who qualified with an 82, in the first round.

Other area championship flight qualifiers, with their scores and first-round opponents are: Fox Valley's Bob Derus (82) vs. Green Bay Oneida's Dr. Mason LeTellier (77); Ridgeway's Cliff Moran (82) vs. Branch River's Kent Pieterman (77); BDM's Bob Martin (79) vs. Manitowoc Elks' Paul Jagemann (83); BDM's Jim McDonald (80) vs. Steeno (74); Waupaca's Dick Johnson (82) vs. Oneida's Jack Koeppler (77); BDM's Don Jabas (83) vs. BDM's Al Rudolf (79); BDM's Dan Steinberg, Jr. (80) vs. Oneida's Nic Wahl, Jr. (78); and BDM's Jim Rudolf (79) vs. Sheboygan Pine Hills' Bill Schmider (83).

BDM's Bob Ferrel shot an 81 to tie for the junior flight medal with South Hills' Mike O'Neill and Wisconsin Rapids' Bill Brazeau. Ferrel was to meet Pine Hills' Jerry Zummach (89) in the first round.

Sherry Qualifies

Fox Valley's Tom Gossens (90) was to play South Hills' Dave Wigton (83). North Shore's John Manier (90) drew Shorewood's Bob Colson (83) as his first-round foe.

BDM's T. J. Sherry was the only area qualifier for the senior championship flight. Sherry, who shot an 82, was to meet Oneida's Marshall Smith (85) in the initial round.

Green Bay Oneida won the team competition, as its five low scorers aggregated a 381.

The runnerup was BDM. Its five low scorers were Dick Garvey, Martin, Al and Jim Rudolf and Steinberg.

Pine Hills' Al Steffen and Conley (1956 NEW champion) were co-runnerup to Steeno for the individual medal.

Becerra Scores 8th-Round KO To Win Crown

Underdog Stops Halimi in Savage Bantamweight Bout

BY PATRICK MCNULTY

Los Angeles — "I went out there to knock him out in the first round," said smiling Jose Becerra after punching the world bantamweight crown from the handsome head of France's Alphonse Halimi.

It actually took the little buzz saw from Guadalajara, Mexico, eight savage rounds to cut down Halimi, who hadn't been off his feet in 28 professional fights.

A crowd of 15,110 sat and shouted in air-conditioned comfort in Los Angeles, spanning new sports arena as the fighters set a pace that couldn't continue 15 rounds.

Counted Out

Somebody had to give—and it was the champion from French North Africa who hit the deck twice in the eighth round and was counted out.

The Halimi camp put the blame for the defeat squarely on the bowed shoulders of the former champion.

And Halimi accepted the blame with a grin and galling shrug.

"I started too fast with heem," Halimi said. "I thought I could knock heem out—but poof."

Halimi began peppering away at the pressing chal-

Jordan Wants To Show He Can Punch

Portland, Ore. —P— welterweight champion Don Jordan intends to show his detractors Friday night that he can punch.

Jordan, who won the title by a decision over Virgil Atkins last December and successfully defended it against Atkins, again by decision, in April, will take on fast, young Denny Meyer of Portland in a 15-round title bout.

"Most people don't think he can punch. But he can punch real good," said Don Nesselth, one of Jordan's managers.

Jordan, working on a string of 10 straight victories, planned one final light workout today in preparation for the title bout, which will be on NBC television, starting at 9 p. m. (CDT).

Meyer, 19, has 20 straight victories since turning professional.

major's annual summer meetings are the question of the starting date of the 1960 race and controversy over a rule permitting inter-league player trades.

Commissioner Ford Frick said the question of a 'hird major league is not on the agenda and that he does not believe it will be discussed.

Huddle With Frick
However, the third major league proposal could be brought before the meeting with the unanimous consent of the club owners.

The executives committees of the majors and minors huddled Wednesday with Frick in an effort to work out a formula for shoring up the sagging minor leagues.

Charles Segar, assistant to Frick, said recommendations will be submitted Friday at a joint meeting of American and National league club officials.

The majors' executive group includes Frick; Warren Giles, president of the National league; Joe Cronin, president of the American league; George Weiss, general manager of the New York Yankees, and Walter O'Malley, president of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The minor league committee is headed by George Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Leagues. Others attending the meeting included Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International league; Ed Doherty, president of the American association; Charles Hurth, president of Southern association; Bob Howsam, president of Denver and Frank Horton, head of the Rochester, N. Y., club.

The two major leagues are in disagreement on a starting date for the 1960 campaign. The National has tentatively set April 12 while the American prefers April 17.

Debate also is in prospect on the inter-league trading rule setting aside a period in November when players may be traded to the other league without waivers. If the rule is upheld, players no longer will need waivers from all other teams in the same league to go into the other league.

Frick reportedly opposes the rule which is to become effective this November.

Youngsters Have Day in Western Golf Youthful Field In Quarter-Finals Of Tournament

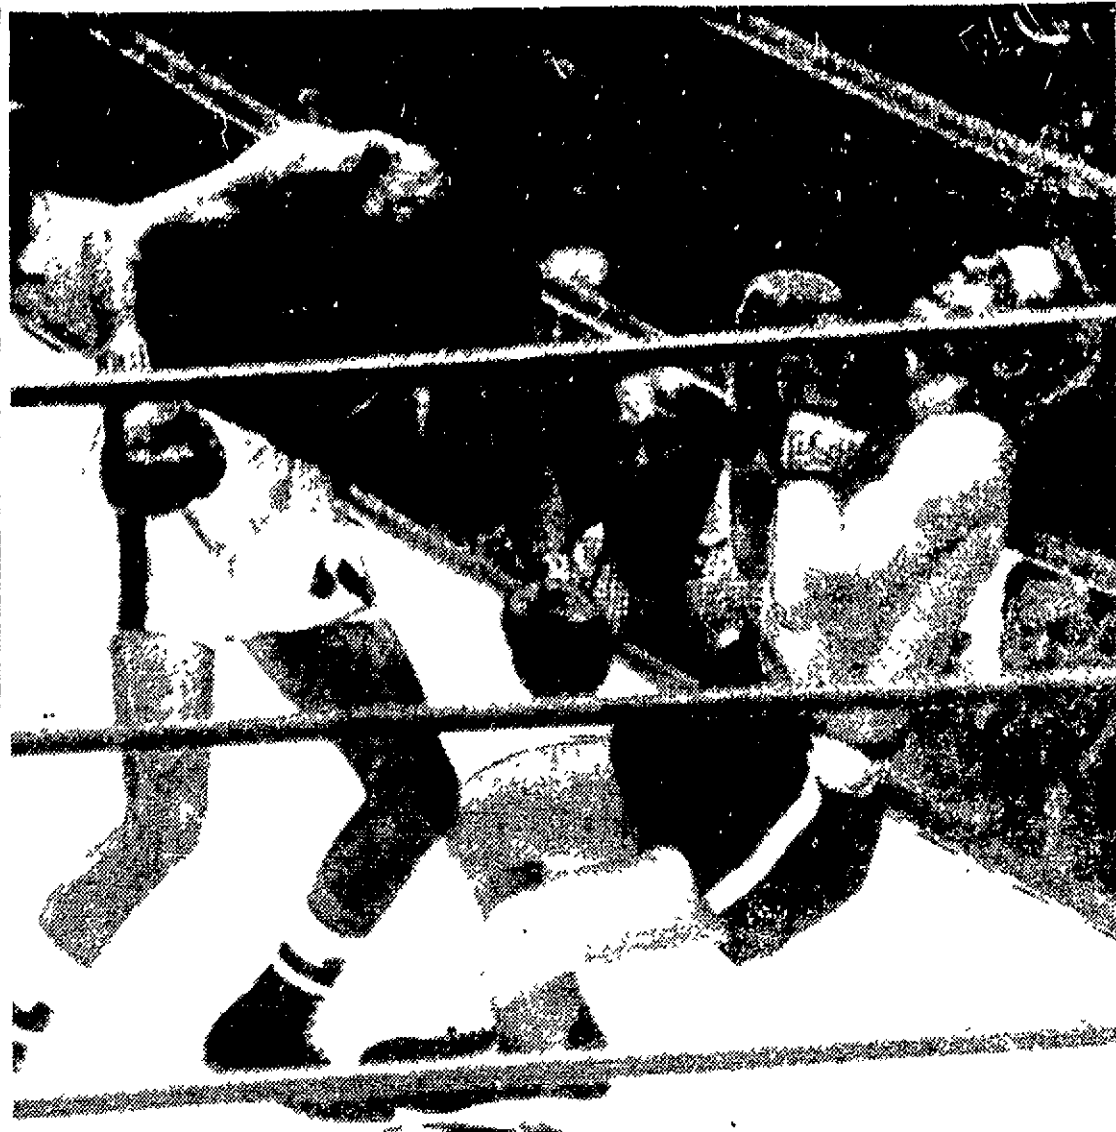

Chicago — (P) — Youngsters are having their day in the fifty-ninth annual Women's Western Amateur golf tournament.

One of the youngest quarter-final fields in the meet's history was to tee off this afternoon on the 6,567-yard par 37-38-75 Exmoor Country Club course.

The group includes two teen-agers, Andy Cohn of Waterloo, Iowa, 19 - year - old Northwestern university sophomore, and 18-year-old Sherry Wheeler, long - hitting star from Glasgow, Ky., last year's runner-up in the USGA Junior.

List Others
Then come Nancy Roth, 20, who waits tables during the winter in a Hollywood, Fla., cafe and spends summers working out of Elkhart, Ind.; Jo Anne Gunderson, 20, of Seattle; Barbara Williams, 20, the California State champion from Richmond; Anne Quast, 21, Everett, Wash.; Judy Bell, 22, Wichita university psychology major, and elder stateswoman, Marge Lindsay, 34-year old former Curtis cup player from Decatur, Ill.

In Wednesday's second round, Miss Lindsay ousted Mary Mills of Ocean Springs, Miss., 3 and 2; Miss Bell scored 3 and 2 over Lois Drafke, Chicago; Miss Williams by 1 up over veterans Mrs. John Clauser, Milwaukee; Miss Quast 3 and 2 over defending champion Barbara McIntire, Jupiter, Fla.; Miss Gunderson by 4 and 2 over Mrs. Frank Stranahan, Toledo; Miss Cohn by 3 and 1 over Polly Riley, Fort Worth; and Miss Roth by 1-up over National Intercollegiate champion Judy Eller, Old Hickory, Tenn.

Bantamweight Champion Alphonse Halimi of France reels backward to the canvas as he is knocked cold in the eighth round by Mexico's Jose Becerra Wednesday night. Halimi rolled over in the new champion's corner, completely out.

one who is "very sincere," said the tackle.

Some coaches are the "wordy type," added Skoronski, but Lombardi "comes straight to the point and tells you the truth, even if it hurts."

Knafelc, who assured his audience that both of his knees are sound again, believes that the Packers are deep in good prospects for every position.

"I think our trouble last year was with personality rather than personnel," volunteered Knafelc. One type of difficulty was "passing the buck," according to the lanky end.

Because of what he described as keen competition for every job on the team, Knafelc said everyone will have to be in first-class shape.

Because Lombardi has a 5-year contract, he'll take a good look at everyone and develop the best possible team, Knafelc said.

Won't Venture Guess

The most popular question about specific personnel concerned the quarterback position. Neither of the speakers would venture a guess as to who would eventually be named No. 1 but said they consider all five candidates very good players. Knafelc said Lombardi will probably settle on three quarterbacks, but that the No. 3 man will have to be one who can also play another position.

It's even possible, said Knafelc, that all five will stay with the team in some capacity because of Lombardi's determination to keep the best players regardless of position. Knafelc pointed out that since both Joe Francis and Lamar McHan are good runners, among other things, they could conceivably wind up as halfbacks.

Knafelc reiterated that Paul Hornung would be used at halfback to utilize both his speed and passing ability. The offensive end added that fans are likely to see more of Jim Taylor this season.

Both speakers, who have been working out every day for a month and are near their playing weights, said they have been impressed by newcomers Boyd Dowler and Alex Hawkins. In pre-camp workouts, both draftees have shown a lot of speed.

Vicious Defensive End

Knafelc said the acquisition of Bill Quinlan from Cleveland should help strengthen the defense. Quinlan is one of the most vicious defensive ends in the league and one you're glad to see on your side, Knafelc said.

The Packers have assembled a good staff of coaching assistants. Skoronski declared. They're all thoroughly familiar with the mechanics of modern football, and most of them are not too far from their own playing days, he added.

Skoronski said he played two years of service ball. One of his '58 teammates was the Packers' Ron Kramer. Skoronski played against Jack Losch, who is expected to re-join the Packers this year.

Yesterday's Stars

Hitting
Bill Skowron, Yankees, singled, doubled and brought the Yankees from behind with a 2-run triple for 11-5 victory over the Red Sox.

Pitching
Bobby Shantz, Yankees, settled down after giving up a 2-run double and an RBI single when he came on in relief in the second inning, allowing only one run on four hits while striking out eight rest the rest of the way.

lenger with a long jab. But he soon switched and bombed away at Becerra in savage infighting.

Although Becerra said later he was jarred only once — in the seventh — Halimi shook the 23-year-old Mexican repeatedly with explosive right and left hooks to the head.

Undaunted, Becerra followed Halimi like a gathering storm. And the storm broke in the eighth with savage suddenness.

Halimi made his last stand in Becerra's corner. He tried gamely to punch away the swarming challenger, but Becerra was on him like a swarm of wasps.

Flat on His Back
A right smash to the jaw started Halimi tumbling. Becerra dug in a vicious left hook to the ribs as Halimi slipped between the ropes and landed flat on his back.

Referee Tommy Hart counted 10 but it was a good minute before Halimi's handlers got him on his feet.

The upset—Becerra was an 8-5 underdog—was the fourth title change in recent months. Don Jordan took the world welterweight title from Virgil Atkins; Davey Moore took the featherweight crown from Hogan Kid Bassey and Ingemar Johansson bombed Floyd Patterson loose from his heavyweight championship. Then, too, the NBA stripped "Sugar" Ray Robinson of his middleweight title in all states but New York.

Becerra, who has knocked out 21 of his 36 fight opponents, said he's ready and willing to meet Halimi in a rematch.

The gate was $151,151. Matchmaker George Parnassus said Los Angeles' Memorial Sport arena is the logical place. But the Halimi camp said they are also considering Paris.

had a year as manager in Seattle and then took over the St. Louis Cardinals for three seasons, being let out last fall. Then he went back to Seattle. He is 39 years old. The firing of Smith was not unexpected. He never had been popular with the always-rabid Cincinnati fans.

Hutchinson said in Seattle Wednesday night that Paul told him he was under "terrible pressure" to make a managerial change. That was several days ago when, Hutchinson said, he advised Paul against making the change.

During his 80-game tenure, Smith had the Reds up close to the top early in the season. They even were in first place for one day in May. Then as the pitching slump-who contributed mightily to the National league victory in the All-Star game.

Logan May Return
The series may also see the return to action of Johnny Logan, recovering from a spike wound. He's not expected to start, but may see pinch-hitting duty.

In connection with the infield weaknesses, dating back to the illness of second baseman "Red" Schoendienst, General Manager John McHale is still casting about for some kind of help but not having much success. The last rumors had him trying for Granny Hamner of Cleveland, but the price apparently was too high.

Felix Mantilla and Johnny O'Brien will continue to cover the short and second positions. And there has been a report that "Chuck" Cottier might be recalled from Louisville in the American association.

Following McDevitt for the Dodgers will be "Sandy" Koufax, another left-hander on Friday, and Don Drysdale on Saturday. Drysdale worked the first three innings of the All-Star game and if he is rested there's a chance he could take the Friday assignments.

Oregano Adds Dash to Italian Favorites

The word "oregano" is sage and marjoram, hence Spanish for wild marjoram good in all kinds of dishes, which, in effect it is. In Italian cooks use it with vor it is a cross between zucchini, plus a little parsley and garlic; with boiled onions; mushrooms; eggplant; carrots, cooked and marinated in an herb wine vinegar and oil sauce; with veal; lamb; seafood. In fact, whenever they want to give something lusty flavor. These smartly seasoned specialties come straight from Italy.

Italian Spaghetti Peperoni is a satisfying meal-in-one which needs not much more than green salad as an accompaniment. You might like to vary the salad by tossing it with French dressing and small spoonfuls of pot cheese. Because fish and seafood have always been more available than red meats in Italy they've figured out all kinds of delectable things to do with these gifts from the deep. You'll like Spaghetti with Quick Clam Sauce or Fish Marinara served with hot rice.

Italian cooks take great pride in vegetable cookery, frequently cooking one vegetable in the juice of another — tomato, usually. Note that tomato and zucchini are combined in a casserole, then seasoned with oregano, garlic and other flavoring ingredients.

All Kinds of Good Things blend into one richly savory sauce—to come to the table as Italian spaghetti peperoni.

Spaghetti Peperoni
 1 pound peperoni sausage
 1 pound ground beef
 1 large can (1 pound, 12 ounces) tomatoes
 1 can (7 ounces) tomato paste
 1 cup water
 2 tablespoons instant minced onion
 2 teaspoons salt
 1 teaspoon crumbled whole oregano leaves
 1 teaspoon chili powder
 1 teaspoon sugar
 1 teaspoon garlic powder
 2 tablespoons dried parsley flakes
 1 can (8 ounces) sliced mushrooms
 1 pound spaghetti, cooked
 Grated Parmesan cheese
 Chop sausage fine and heat 5 minutes in a 9-inch skillet. Add ground beef and cook until browned. Add tomatoes, tomato paste, water, onion, and salt. Simmer 20 minutes or until thickened. # Fund Shortage May Cut Aid to Polio Victims

Only $1,053 Left for Last 6 Months of Year

Rising polio-care costs and a serious shortage of funds may curtail services of the Outagamie county chapter of the National Foundation, according to chapter President Mrs. Paul V. Cary.

At an informal luncheon meeting Wednesday, Mrs. Cary said only $1,053 remains by the next six months. "Normally," Mrs. Cary said, "We have never gone below $600 a month in expenditures. Even though some services have been curtailed, we still haven't got enough to carry our program through."

Some Bills Remaining

Mrs. Cary noted $10,983 has been spent by the county chapter for the first six months. The chapter also has $964 in unpaid bills.

"About 60 polio victims in the county are seriously paralyzed and almost all children, still need orthopedic appliances, medical treatment and other services. We need a minimum of $2,000 to handle them and we also should have enough to send three patients to Warm Springs, Ga.," she said.

No Help

"Each patient we send for treatment there costs about $1,500. We won't get any more help from national headquarters because they need more money than they have on hand," she said.

The meeting was attended by Mrs. Cary, county fund-raising director; Harlan Hunger, representative of the National Foundation, and F. John Barlow, Appleton, county vice president and co-director of state fund raising.

Youth Fined For Driving Without License

Carson T. Curtis, 19, of 1344 W. Wisconsin avenue today was fined $25 and charged four points against his driving record for driving without a driver's license.

Curtis was charged after a minor accident July 1 at Highway 41 and 47. He told the other driver he did not want the police called. Curtis' license was revoked for a year last May for reckless driving and has not been reinstated.

11-Point Total

Alyce Summers, route 1, Oneida, was fined $10 for driving without a license and $40 for leaving the scene of an accident Saturday on County Trunk E in the town of Oneida. The offenses and accident will cost her 11 points against her driving record. Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieg also ordered that no license be issued for two months.

A charge of illegal passing against John H. Reed, 40, of 516 N. Division street, Shawano, was dismissed, although the court ruled there was probable cause for an arrest. Reed, was ordered to pay $13.25 court costs.

Leonard J. Flatoff, 31, of 829 John street, Menasha, was fined $15 and charged three points for speeding.

Thomas Krause, 18, Elm Grove, was fined $10 for driving a car with an improper muffler.

Chief Wants Two Streets Extended

Cites Need for Fire Protection in Northeast Section

The city should extend Owaisa or McDonald streets to Highway 41 when it furnishes fire protection for the far northeast corner of the city, Fire Chief Neumann believes.

There are two businesses and four homes east of the A. W. Council company, Neumann reported. At the Council company fire last month, the fire department had no hydrant with which to connect.

Fires which result in calling for aid by town of Grand Chute volunteers, as happened in the Council fire, could be very expensive under terms of the mutual aid agreement between the city and the town, the chief said. It's possible, he explained, that Grand Chute could bill the city about $700 as a result of the Council blaze. (No bill has been received.)

Committeemen told Neumann they would have to check plats in the area to determine whether there are provisions for eventual opening of Owaisa or McDonald streets.

Other committee actions: Ald. Tucker's request for changes in parking restrictions in the area bounded by Morrison, North, Durkee and Washington streets was ordered held until Traffic Sgt. John Gosch completes a study.

Light Request

Ald. Schumacher's request for a street light at Ballard road and Frances street was ordered continued in the "hold" file. The light. Chairman Thomas K. Schneider said, would violate the zoning restrictions of the airport's clear zone.

Neumann was instructed that the problem of debris on property of Floyd Acheson, 2407 N. Richmond street, was one for city department heads and the city attorney. Neumann said gravel is piled on the land in violation of zoning laws, and there is a health hazard involved.

Man Beats Wife for Refusing to Bake A Cake for Him

William Van Linn, 23, of 1132 1/2 Depot street, Little Chute, has been fined $25 for beating his wife and placed on probation for two years for resisting arrest.

Van Linn, whose wife, Rita, charged that he grabbed her by the neck, beat her and held her head under a water faucet, told Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieg that his wife refused to bake him a cake. This angered him, Van Linn said.

"Why didn't you get a cake from a bakery or a store?" asked the judge. "They aren't the same as homemade ones, judge," replied Van Linn.

Songwriter Really Is Platter Man

Madison, N.J. — To Jim Williams of Montclair, N.J., a platter can be anything from a hit tune to a blue plate special.

Williams proved himself a songwriter when his tune "You Are My Destiny" sold 350,000 copies on the record stands.

But songwriting, he says, is still a spare-time occupation. He prefers working regular hours as director of food services at the Florham-Nadison campus of Fairleigh Dickinson university.

Fractional Gains And Losses on Irregular Market

New York —(AP)— The stock market took a breather from its flight to four straight record highs and went irregularly lower early this afternoon. Trading was active.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the rule for most key stocks. Higher-priced issues such as Du Pont and Youngstown Sheet dropped more than 2.

Some of the steel and rails which have been leaders in the latest upsurge to historic market peaks were clipped by normal profit taking.

Utilities and drugs were up. Mail order-retail stocks advanced. Motors, steels, copers, electronics and most chemicals were down.

Gains of more than a point by Woolworth and Western Union highlighted the performance of pivotal issues.

Losses of around a point were shown by U. S. Steel and Republic Steel. General Motors dropped a point.

New York Central dropped a sizeable fraction. Southern Pacific, Pennsylvania Railroad and Southern Railway made moderate gains while Santa Fe, Illinois Central and Baltimore & Ohio declined moderately.

Chrysler, American Motors, U. S. Rubber, Caterpillar, Douglas Aircraft, Kennecott, International Nickel, American Cyanamid, General Electric, Standard Oil of Indiana, American Airlines and U. S. Gypsum were among the losers.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off 10 cents to $233.80 with the industrials down 80 cents, the rails down 10 cents and the utilities up 30 cents.

U. S. government bonds were firm.
